Emphasis on student discipline

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record
Progress in increasing student discipline was reported to the Granite City School Board on Tuesday night by Grigsby Junior High School Assistant Principal Nancy Marti, who has conducted a pilot program at Grigsby and at Marshall Elementary School.
Superintendent B. J. Davis said the "assertive discipline" approach is being evaluated and may be recommended to the board for adoption throughout the school system.
As developed by Lee Canter, a nationally known school consultant, the program recognizes discipline as "the number one problem facing educators today." It seeks to help equip each teacher with "the skills and confidence necessary to take charge of behavior problems in a firm, consistent and positive manner."

Supt. Davis agreed with the assertion that "five to ten percent of students cause 90 percent of the problems" and emphasized that the vast majority of boys and girls adhere to reasonable limits on their conduct at schools.
Miss Marti pointed out to the board that time spent dealing with disruptive behavior takes away from the time available for the main objectives of teaching and learning.
She said the assertive discipline concept consists of clear rules, positive reinforcement of good behavior, a series of gradually higher penalties for misconduct, and utilization of parental support of discipline, through convincing parents that it is in the best interest of their child as well as the classmates.

Canter has written that assertive discipline "does not advocate teachers and principals storming into classrooms and throttling any student who opens his or her mouth."
"What it does advocate is that educators use a systematic approach to discipline. This enables them to set firm, consistent limits for students, while at the same time remaining cognizant of the reality of each student's need for warmth and positive support.

"In recent years, numerous factors have been identified as contributing to a lack of discipline in schools. There are today more students with severe behavior problems than in the past."
"Of those who exhibit inappropriate, disruptive behavior periodically during the school year, over 90 percent are in regular classrooms, not educationally handicapped or emotionally handicapped classrooms. Most teachers and administrators have not had specific training to deal effectively with such behavior."

Nameoki vote canvass elects Hall

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record
It was a typical Nameoki Township election, characterized by close races, errors in precinct totals, election challenges and the usual two-week-long question, "Who won?"
Significant changes were discovered

Monday night by the township's canvass board in two of the 12 Nameoki precincts, reversing the outcome of the tax collector's race and changing the totals for all of the candidates, but leaving Harry Briggs of the United With Progress Party the new supervisor of the township, starting May 4.

However, even that is not certain. Briggs led Richard Kismar of the Progressive Action Party by only 85 votes after the canvass and Kismar said he plans to file for discovery in all 12 precincts. The canvass board certified 1,638 votes for Briggs and 1,583 for Kismar.

Kismar said he is in the process of preparing discovery papers on behalf of himself and unsuccessful candidates on his party, David Partney, who ran for tax assessor, and Jan Langenstein, who was the only Progressive Action Party candidate for trustee who was defeated.
"It's a shot in the dark, but with the types of changes we have seen in precinct two alone, where my total went from 174 to 132, who knows?" Kismar said of the challenge.
The closest race in Nameoki April 7 balloting was for tax collector. Election night returns showed incumbent Freida Bailey leading Norman W. Hall by 21 votes, 1,554 to 1,533, but the canvass board found changes in precincts one and two which reversed the outcome. After the canvass, Hall won by only nine votes, 1,580 to 1,571. A challenge is anticipated.
Another close race was for town clerk. Election night, Donald Ridgeway of Kismar's party led the incumbent clerk Douglas Teeter by only seven votes, 1,527 to 1,520. The canvass widened that lead to 27 votes and the certified results show Ridgeway the winner, 1,568 to 1,541.
The race for tax assessor was not significantly changed. After the canvass, incumbent assessor Carl Macios of the Briggs party defeated Partney, 1,664 to 1,507.
The race for highway commissioner gave incumbent Frank Mehelic the most decisive victory of any candidate in the township. He defeated Supervisor Harold Davis for the highway job by 320 votes, 1,527 to 1,207.

New legislation would have serious effect on libraries

By JUDY TAPLIN
and GARY SCHNEIDER
Picture your local librarian as a convicted felon? Abundant, you say? But companion bills introduced into the Illinois House and Senate would in fact make it a Class 4 felony for a librarian who makes objectionable material available to persons under 18 years of age.
The bills have the library community in Illinois up in arms. Library boards, library systems and librarians themselves view the bills as out and out censorship.
The book which prompted the bills is "Show Me," an explicit sex education manual to be used by parents in instruction of their children.

State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) said the book, "Show Me," was shown to him by supporters of the bills and Wolf concluded, "The pictures you will see in that will really turn your stomach. To think that some of these books are being checked out to the kids in the guise of sex education, I think it's erroneous to me, it's pornography in the worst form."
Seven other books also are targets of an ad hoc group which calls itself the Citizens for Family Life, which is visiting libraries in Illinois with the intent of having the eight books removed from the library shelves.
Wolf said that he feels such controls are necessary, but plans to question whether jail would be the appropriate penalty. "As far as imposition of a jail term for an infraction of the law, that might be a little bit strong."

"I support the bill, in general, but the penalty, I would think by the time the bills get to final form, you will probably see amendments attached which will modify them to a certain extent, but we certainly need legislation, in my opinion, to curb the type of thing that is going on. If the average individual could see what is being distributed, there were no problem in the general public accepting what is being presented," Wolf said.
Librarians, however, feel the bills are a form of censorship. Head Librarian

Detach 6 tracts from sewer

By JUDY TAPLIN
The Madison County Board has, at last, found a way to allow six tracts of land out of the county's Special Service Area without resorting to legal action. The action affects more than 100 lots, many of which have houses on them.
The board approved an ordinance Wednesday which would abate a special sewer tax in the Special Sewer for landowners on the six tracts.
Four of the tracts are in Nameoki Township. They involve homes in Steelcrest Village Manor Subdivision, Miracle Manor and Evergreen Subdivision, and Bellemore Place. The other tracts are in Chouteau and Venice townships.
Assistant State's Attorney Marshall

"Zeke" Smith said it was "totally impossible to put some of these areas on the county's new sewers and some of the home owners already have sewers from Granite City, he noted.
The landowners have paid taxes to the county for sewers the last two years, although most paid under protest. The persons involved have been trying to disconnect from the special service area for the same two years.
Smith was recently given authority to file a lawsuit to disconnect the tracts, but Wednesday he told the county board that abatement of taxes was "an easier way."
He said three more areas might have to be considered for disconnection in the future.

The abatement of taxes was made retroactive to passage of the county's $5 million bond issue April 3, 1978.
"They'll get their tax money back, but they'll still have to pay a $10 filing fee," Smith said. Asked if this might be setting a precedent for others who might want out, Smith agreed that it could be a problem.
The county should follow its own rule to avoid the problem he said. The county has established the rule that if sewers are available, residents will be taxed for them, whether or not they hook on, he said.
Areas detached by yesterday's action

Daylight time due April 26

That time when you set your clocks ahead one hour is almost here again. Daylight savings time by which one gains an hour of daylight each day until next October will arrive officially at 2 a.m. Sunday, April 26.
Clocks may be set ahead one hour upon retiring Saturday night or early Sunday morning during the April 25-26 weekend.
The period of daylight savings time will end on the fourth Sunday of October when Quad-Cityans will set their clocks back one hour.

Cong. Price to tour Hospice facilities here

Since Hospice programs are now the focus of eminent legislative action on the national level, Congressman Melvin Price will tour local facilities to acquaint him with the philosophy, purpose and function of this unique service for terminally ill patients and their families in Madison County.
If legislation is passed, the Social Security Act will be amended to declare terminally ill patients with limited prognosis permanently and totally disabled, thereby enabling them to use their Medicare benefits to obtain hospice services, just as beneficiaries now receive covered services from hospitals, nursing homes and home health agencies.
As a result, Cong. Price will appear at a reception at St. Elizabeth's Medical Center at 2 p.m. today and will tour Hospice facilities. The reception will be held in the center's cafeteria at 1 p.m., with Cong. Price scheduled to appear about an hour later.
The Hospice reimbursement bill has been introduced officially in both houses of Congress. All local, state and national hospice organizations throughout Illinois are contacting their congressmen to acquaint them with the importance of this legislation. Many volunteers are working to provide information and testimony about hospice care to key committee and legislators.
If adopted in its present form, the legislation will:

FLYASH MADE USEFUL. One of two 1,100-foot lanes of a road being constructed from Route 3 into the Illinois Power Co. industrial park is poured Wednesday morning. Viewing the pouring of the flyash-cement concrete mixture are Carl Mathias, left, Illinois Power service area manager in Granite City, and W. E. Warren, IP vice-president. The two men are at the far right in the photo. The flyash being used in the road is from the Wood River power station.

REV. DOOLEY

Revival services at Baptist Church

The West 22nd Street Baptist Church, 2800 W. 22nd St., will begin a spring revival on Monday, April 20, and continue through Sunday, April 26, with services to convene each evening at 7 o'clock.

According to the announcement by the host pastor, the Rev. Louis Thiele, special music will be performed each night and the services are open to the public.

The Rev. J. F. Dooley, formerly of Hardinsburg, Ky., will serve as the evangelist for the week long session.

He worked for many years with the Cumberland Mountain Evangelistic Association with Evangelist Jesse Buell.

Rev. Dooley is married to the former Christine Akridge of Hodgenville, Ky., and is pastoring a church now in Southern Illinois.

Some auto licenses due by April 30

Passenger car owners with license plate registrations expiring in April have until midnight Thursday, April 30, to display brown 1982 stickers in the upper right corners of their rear plates. Sec. of State Jim Edgar said approximately 580,000 renewal applications have been mailed to registered owners who currently display green 1981 stickers expiring in April.

Applications made by mail should be in the Secretary's office no later than Friday, April 17, to guarantee delivery by the April 30 deadline.

Stickers also may be purchased over the counter at the Secretary of State's Springfield and Chicago facilities or many financial institutions participating in the license renewal program.

Effective Friday, May 1, anyone driving a car with an expired green, April 1981, sticker will be subject to a fine for improper registration.

Career Advisory Council to meet

The Career Advisory Council of the Granite City School District's Off-Campus Education—Extended Classroom program will meet at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday, April 21, at Ervay's Restaurant, 2220 Pontoon Road.

Dinner will be ordered from the menu on a "Dutch treat" basis, according to Don Shaffner, Off-Campus Education coordinator.

Principal points of discussion will focus on preparation for the annual spring banquet, awards for competition and the area of health occupations.

Council members unable to attend are asked to contact Shaffner's office at 877-1512, or 451-2668, station 68.

Pre-Easter luncheon 'Love one another'

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

"A new commandment I give you: that you love one another even as I have loved you."

Maundy Thursday events related to Jesus and His disciples were retraced by the Rev. Dr. Arthur Smith at a luncheon Tuesday in the YMCA auditorium.

It was the traditional Maundy Thursday gathering of Quad-City area service clubs, held two days early. Among those participating were Granite City Rotarians, Granite City Optimists and Evening Kiwanians.

The gathering of nearly 100 followed on a map as the Maundy Thursday walk of Jesus from the Upper Room to the Garden of Gethsemane was described by Dr. Smith. Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of East St. Louis for the past 30 years, he is leaving this summer to become chaplain at the Gatesworth Manor in St. Louis.

The Rev. David B. Maxton, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church of Granite City, introduced the speaker and prayer was offered by the Rev. Donald Pierson, pastor of the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church. Presiding were Robert Maxwell and James Winning.

Holy Land scenes were discussed by the guest speaker, who said it is the commandment to love one another that gives Maundy Thursday its name. The Latin word mandatum means commandment.

Dr. Smith related, "Jesus gathered his friends around him at the Passover supper before he died, telling them to love because He first loved them."

"At the supper, he washed the feet of the disciples and thereby demonstrated service and humility as the hallmarks of his life. 'He took bread and said, 'Take, eat; this is my body,' and a cup of wine, saying, 'This is my blood of the new covenant which is poured out for many.' This offering constitutes the heart of true sacrifice."

"The culminating event was the one that ended on Calvary, which came at the end of a week of important events for Jesus in Bethany, Bethphage and Jerusalem."

"But it must be considered in a long historical line of events that occurred over hundreds of years involving the Jews as they tried to fulfill their part of the covenant made between Abraham and God."

"The Passover feast commemorated the release of the Jews from captivity and slavery in Egypt."

"In Jesus' day, there was an established rite attached to this feast. Immediately after the sacrificial slaying of a lamb in the inner court of the temple, the lamb was brought back home and roasted to be eaten that same evening. The feast began just after sunset and went on until midnight."

"The Passover sauce, with a special lettuce and herbs from Galilee, was passed around for the guests to immerse their bread."

"When Jesus said, 'It is one of you who dips with me in the dish,' the disciples took this as meaning any one of them."

"In offering a morsel of bread to Judas, Jesus was carrying out the Eastern courtesy of offering a specially-prepared delicacy. No doubt, Jesus was giving Judas one last chance to have a change of heart."

"When Jesus led the disciples out of the Upper Room after midnight, they were in the midst of the oldest part of the city. Ancient Jerusalem extended from the hill of Ophel toward the south in the direction of the Pool of Siloam."

"On the left, as the journey to the Garden of Gethsemane begins, is the Wall. As Jesus walked in the direction of the Garden, he came to the gate in the Wall. As He moved on toward the Cedron Valley, the Pinnacle of the Temple towered over him and his friends."

"This is the place where Christ had been tempted at the beginning of His ministry."

"The Garden of Gethsemane may have belonged to a friend and disciple of Jesus. That is the reason the disciples were able to use it so freely."

"There is a $5,000 deductible clause in our insurance for each building. The Lueders Agency has been notified of the loss."

"It was a small olive grove about ten acres in size, with a grotto on the side of the hill where an olive press was kept. Gethsemane means olive press. This grotto could serve as a shelter."

"In the Garden today are olive trees that appear centuries old. Undoubtedly, the rocks on the hillside are the ones on which Jesus and His disciples sat."

"At the Apostles' Rock, the other eight rested apart while Jesus went to pray."

"The Rock of Agony was carefully left clear when the modern Church of All Nations was constructed. The church is built over the rock, which forms the focal point in the sanctuary."

"This rock represents the precise point at which Jesus prayed in the Agony in the Garden. Jews always had stood to pray, so when Jesus fell to the ground to pray, He was doing something unusual," the speaker said in concluding his Holy Week presentation.

$39,000 wind damage at 2 GC schools

The April 3 tornado caused damage of $39,000 at Mitchell School ($34,000 to the roof and $2,000 to the ceiling) and $3,000 damage to the Lake School roof.

This estimate was given Tuesday night to the Granite City School Board, which authorized the Biebel Brothers Roofing Co. to make emergency roof repairs not exceeding $34,000. Mitchell and not more than $3,000 at Lake.

Maintenance Supervisor Ronald Landman said roofing totaling 5,000 square feet, including insulation, was blown off Mitchell School. The accompanying rain caused interior damage to ceilings in that area.

"The wind removed all the roofing to the metal deck making temporary patching impossible," Landman said. "At Lake, the roof on an area of 200 square feet, including perimeter metal flashing, was blown loose. This was on the roof installed in September 1980."

National Steel realigns key management personnel

National Steel Corporation's President and Chief Executive Officer, Howard M. Love, has announced a series of key management realignments and personnel appointments.

These, he said, "are designed to further consolidate our management structure along profit center lines. We believe, also, that these changes will place National Steel in a better position to promote and manage the growth which we see for the Corporation in the 1980's. On May 1, the following changes are effective. Granite City Steel is a division of National Steel.

Richard S. Smith is appointed to the newly created position of executive vice president-staff and diversified operations, reporting to Love. This group includes United Financial Corporation of California, National Aluminum Corporation, and the staff departments of finance, audit, economic analysis and strategic planning.

Smith has been senior vice president. He also continues as a director of National Steel.

James E. Haas is appointed to the newly created position of executive vice president-steel operations, reporting to Love. This position will bring together the four basic steel divisions into a single profit center. Previously, each of the steel divisions reported to Love. Haas has been vice president-fabricating products group, and will continue to provide direction to that group.

George Pulianas is appointed senior vice president-general counsel and secretary, reporting to Love. Previously he was vice president, general counsel and secretary. Angevine will assume additional duties as the chief commercial officer responsible for corporate staff commercial functions. In addition, he will assume responsibility for expanding certain product and market development activities.

Tube Company, and Transportation Products Company. Pulianas succeeds previously, Pulianas was vice president-administration for National Steel.

William F. Ewart is appointed to the newly created position of senior vice president-commercial, reporting to Love. Ewart, formerly vice president-commercial, will continue as the chief commercial officer responsible for corporate staff commercial functions. In addition, he will assume responsibility for expanding certain product and market development activities.

George B. Angevine is appointed senior vice president-general counsel and secretary, reporting to Love. Previously he was vice president, general counsel and secretary. Angevine will assume additional duties as the chief commercial officer responsible for corporate staff commercial functions. In addition, he will assume responsibility for expanding certain product and market development activities.

Smith was named group vice president in 1972, with responsibility for the aluminum and fabricated products subsidiaries of National Steel. In 1977, he was named senior vice president.

Pulianas, 54, joined National Steel in 1959 at the Midwest Steel Division where he was named assistant controller there in 1965. He advanced through a variety of administrative and financial positions as Midwest Steel and the Granite City Steel Division, and was appointed vice president and controller of the Weirton Steel Division in 1977. That same year, he advanced to executive vice president at Weirton. In 1979, Pulianas was named vice president-administration for National Steel.

Ewart, 50, joined National Steel in 1975 as vice president-commercial. His steel industry career began in 1962 when he joined Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation as a sales trainee. He remained with S&L for 23 years, advancing in sales, business development and sales management positions. In January, 1972, Ewart was named vice president-commercial for J&L.

Retirement party for Marguerite Connole

A retirement dinner party attended by 118 was held for Mrs. Marguerite Connole at the Madison Recreation Center. She retired at mid-term after seven years as Madison School District gifted program director and assistant curriculum director.

Graduating in 1932 from Madison High School, she then graduated in 1938 from Illinois State Normal University with a bachelor of science degree in English, Latin and music. She graduated in 1938 from Washington University with a master's degree in education.

Mrs. Connole was a crippled children's teacher at Madison High School in 1938-40 and taught at Oakdale (La.) High School in 1942-43.

She was a substitute teacher at Madison High School in 1947-49 and taught English and music at Madison High School in 1949-52.

Director of the humanities program in 1967, she taught 7th grade at Madison Junior High School from 1962 to 1973.

In June 1973, she was appointed assistant curriculum director of the Madison public schools.

Master of ceremonies at the early spring retirement dinner was John Palchiff, superintendent of schools, Madison District 12. The invocation was given by Porter Cavity, Harris School principal.

Harold E. Briggs, regional superintendent, presented Mrs. Connole with a certificate from the Madison County Educational Service Region.

Margaret Lee, chairman of the Venice-Madison Fine Arts Council, presented Mrs. Connole with a plaque from the council, while Charles McCaskill, assistant principal of the Madison Middle School, presented Mrs. Connole with a plaque from that school. The plaque was made by the 6th grade arts and crafts class.

Diane Hollis, secretary at the Board of Education office, presented Mrs. Connole with a ceramic nativity set from employees at the board office.

Dolores Brunick, secretary at the board office, gave Mrs. Connole a money tree, made by David Becherer of Harris School, from the district personnel.

Delta Kappa Gamma members, who sang, accompanied by Valerie Stuckel, the Madison district, were Lind McDonnell, and Elizabeth Briggs of Parkview School, Granite City; Dolores Folkerts of Madison High School; Ila Lowery of Wood River High School, and Lucille Stephenson of Worden High School.

They sang, "A Little Love," "Families Can Live Forever" and "Stand Up, America."

Ila Lowery sang "Tomorrow" as a solo.

TAX RECEIVED

Madison County has received $126,706 in sales tax from the state for the month of January. It was reported Wednesday. A total of $129,292 was collected and $2,585 was deducted for administrative purposes, leaving the county's allotment figure at $126,706.

Workshop May 6 on tax effects on real estate

The Center for urban and Environmental Research and Services (CUERS) at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will sponsor a workshop concerning the impact of federal tax laws on urban real estate development. The workshop will be held on Wednesday, May 6. The registration deadline is April 27.

The one-day workshop will be held in the Maple-Dogwood Rooms of the University Center from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Registration fee is $20.

The program is the third in a series of sessions offered to the public on investment in urban properties, according to Robert Mendelson, associate professor of research in CUERS.

The speaker for the course is Gaylon E. Greer, professor of finance at DePaul University, as well as a consultant and appraiser groups in developing professional education programs.

He will discuss various topics, including: income tax consequences of real estate investment; real estate depreciation; tax treatment of repairs and maintenance; and calculating gain or loss on disposal. Participants will receive reading material about the subject matter of the program in advance.

To obtain additional information, interested persons may contact Robert Mendelson in the SIUE Center for Urban and Environmental Research and Services by telephoning 618-692-3032.

Jazz concert to be April 27

The Jazz Lab Band at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be performing its annual spring concert Monday, April 27 at 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

Featured soloists will be: Brett Stamps, trombonist; Carolebeth True, piano; Jerry Bolen, drums; Dave Engeltke, bass; and Bill Lenihan, guitar. Natalie Mentrup will be the director.

Selections to be performed include "In a Mellow Tone," "A Child Is Born," "Cute," "Spain," and "Groovin' Hard."

The concert is free and open to the public.

IMMIGRATION CASE

Men identified as Julio Castro, Juan Castro and Francisco Rios were transferred Monday from Granite City police custody to the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service after being stopped at 2:50 a.m. Saturday when a car allegedly was being driven the wrong way on one-way State Street in the 2100 block. A fourth occupant of the auto was freed at 1 p.m. Saturday after authorization to release him was given by an immigration agent.

Armed violence charge; shotgun blast wounds man

David S. Johnson, 23, of 2023 Dewey Ave. was charged with armed violence and aggravated battery after notifying police that he had fired a 12 gauge shotgun at his home at 3:15 a.m. Tuesday.

Patrick McGuigan of the same address was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and underwent surgery Tuesday in which his right leg was saved. Pellets had struck him just below the right knee, with one pellet also striking his left arm.

Police initially went to 2023 Dewey at 2 a.m. Tuesday to quell an argument between the two.

McGuigan began to move his belongings out and alleged that on one such visit Johnson displayed a .38-caliber pistol.

It was on a subsequent visit to obtain items from an upstairs bedroom that the shotgun blast occurred. McGuigan was on the back porch roof near a window, and firemen used a ladder truck to aid in placing him in the city ambulance.

Johnson entered no plea when taken at 3 p.m. Tuesday before Associate Judge Clayton R. Williams. A preliminary hearing date remains to be scheduled. Bond was set at $5,000 cash, and Johnson was returned to jail.

Amvets here to host national commanders

The Amvets national commander, Ernest F. Pitcheil of Rhode Island, and the national Amvets auxiliary president, Mrs. Ann Brown of North Carolina, will be welcomed to the Quad-City area at a reception in their honor scheduled for Monday, April 20.

Both the Madison Amvets Post 204 and the Granite City Amvets Post 51 will host the organizations' national leaders at the Madison post home, 1242 Iowa St., at 5:30 p.m.

In addition to the national leaders, the Illinois State Commander Jim King, of Mt. Vernon, and the Illinois State Auxiliary President Mrs. Dorothea Kukulinski, of Chicago, will also be in attendance.

Fifth Division Commander Jim Foster and the Fifth Division Auxiliary President Juma Foster will also be guests at the reception as will other local and state officials.

votes, 1,747 to 1,427.

Election night, it appeared Helen Hawkins, Joseph Garcia, Don Wilson and W. Lee Adams would be the new trustees and the canvass changed the totals, but not the names. Mrs. Hawkins led with 1,764 votes, Garcia had 1,622, Wilson had 1,658 and Adams, an incumbent, tallied 1,540. Mrs. Hawkins, Garcia and Wilson were on Kismor's ticket, while Adams edged out the other Kismor choice, Langenstein, who tallied 1,502 votes.

Other unsuccessful trustee candidates, all from Briggs' party, were Andy Besserman with 1,482 votes, Jerry L. Adams with 1,417 and James Counts with 1,232.

Thus, the new supervisor will have the task of dealing with a highway commissioner, town clerk, tax collector and three trustees from the opposing party while having only a tax assessor and one trustee from his party "on the team."

Added to that are the anticipated shortage of federal and state funds, elimination of some grant programs and a general tax rebellion among the citizens, and Briggs may find it difficult to continue existing programs to which the residents of Nameoki Township have become accustomed.

Briggs, Ridgeway and the trustees will be seated May 4. Mehelie will begin his new four-year term as highway commissioner April 27 and the year for the assessor and collector, Macies and Hall, will not begin until Jan. 1, 1982.

In addition to contending with new trustees predominantly from the opposite party, Briggs already has been assigned a new auditor, fire trustee and attorney.

At one of the final meetings of the present Nameoki Town Board Monday night, the reinstatement of these officials was declared.

Mrs. Irene Karlechik, trustee of the Long Lake Fire Protection District, Dewey Schneider, auditor and Irvin C. Slate Jr., attorney, were all re-appointed to their respective offices. Mrs. Karlechik will serve another three year term as fire trustee. "I would have appointed Mrs. Karlechik myself," said Briggs.

Slate's contract had expired and his new appointment will last only two months. The new board will have the option of selecting its own attorney at the end of that period.

Behavioral awards to students include certificates of accomplishment and also passes for "free time" activities during the school day.

Miss Marti said in reply to questions from board members that four to six hours are utilized to train a group of 20 to 30 faculty members in the Canter technique.

She added that although it is more systematic, the assertive plan is similar to the common-sense approach developed by many teachers in dealing with students.

No serious problems have been noted locally but statistics are said to indicate that, nationally, behavior problems may consume 30 to 80 percent of classroom time.

A series of school reports on the NBC television network's nightly news broadcast this year included secretly-taped classes in which student conduct was out of control and little or no learning was occurring.

No appropriations are attached to the bill. The net effect of the bill will be to cost the Medicare system no more and probably less money, because of the fact that hospice care is typically less costly than curative therapy.

Services for Luster Flanery

Word has been received here of the death of Luster C. "Les" Flanery, 56, of Granite City, who died March 26, 1981, at Lawrence Memorial Hospital in Walnut Ridge, Ark.

Funeral services were held March 28 at Delaplane Baptist Church in O'Keefe, Ark., with burial taking place in Jones Ridge Cemetery in Greene County, Ark.

Mr. Flanery had been in ill health about a year. He was a patient at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for two weeks prior to March 3 when he was taken to the Walnut Ridge hospital.

He was formerly employed in the Blast Furnace Division at Granite City Steel and also operated a tavern in Lincoln Place for some years.

Mr. Flanery was a World War II veteran. He was born in Greene County, Ark., and had resided in Granite City about 20 years.

He leaves two sons, two daughters, four sisters, a brother, and a nephew whom reside in Arkansas.

County jail gets another reprieve from demolition

The century-old Madison County Jail in Edwardsville, received yet another reprieve from "death row" yesterday as a previously-unknown state law surfaced and kept the county board from sealing the jail's doom.

The board was prepared yesterday to vote on a $49,000 bid to demolish the jail when Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith, legal advisor to the board, warned that the county may not have the authority to demolish its own building, since it has been declared a city landmark by Edwardsville and may be protected by the city.

Smith said the jail, which already is listed in the National Register of Historic Places, was declared a city landmark last year by the Edwardsville City Council. A state law protecting city landmarks may require the county to get permission from Edwardsville officials to demolish the structure, Smith warned and suggested that the board delay voting on the demolition bid until the matter is more thoroughly researched.

Several board members indicated they felt the county should proceed immediately with demolition of the jail, despite the city landmark designation. Board Member James Heil (R-Godfrey) stated, "You do whatever you're big enough to do. This is a good time to see if the county is under the control of the city of Edwardsville."

He suggested immediate demolition of the jail, but the board voted 13-9 to take Smith's suggestion and reject the demolition bid, until the matter can be researched further.

The fate of the old jail has been bounced back and forth by those who wish to see it preserved as a historic landmark and those who want it demolished and the land sold or used for other county purposes. In July, the county board authorized preparation of a contract which would have given control of the jail to the Goshen Preservation Alliance, but when that contract was presented to the board last month, it was rejected by the county.

GPA has filed a lawsuit seeking to force the county to sign a lease, but that suit has not yet been heard.

News notes

A sheet pile piling template has been set on the downstream Illinois corner of the Lock and Dam 26 replacement project's cofferdam area. Work on sheet pile cells will proceed on the downstream leg of the cofferdam toward the Missouri side; later, cells will be placed upstream from the corner to complete the river leg of the cofferdam.

At 6:30 p.m. that day there will be a De La Roche award dinner at the medical center, with part of the proceeds going to the equipment fund. Dedication of the ancillary addition is set for 1 p.m. Sunday, May 3, with an open house starting at 1:30.

March traffic fatalities in Illinois totaled 160, including four in Madison County. For the first three months of 1981, the figure is 376, a statewide increase of 34 over January-March 1980. State Police District 11 Commander Glenn H. Huffman said troopers in the concentrated speed enforcement program made 585 contacts during March, in the belief that "speed is a factor that not only causes accidents but helps determine the extent of injuries and the number of deaths."

The Association for Modern Banking in Illinois this week urged the Illinois Bankers Association to join with it in developing compromise legislation for limited multi-bank holding companies. AMBI contends banks owned in Illinois could become non-existent over the next 15 years "unless freed to compete, through giving them powers equal to those of banks in other states." The IBA opposes branch banking.

Sandra Muskopf of Belleville West won the third annual high school writers' prize competition sponsored by the SIUE department of Robert Stack of the Granite City Public Library commented, "I don't think you could operate a library in this day and age afraid that everytime you bought a book, you would get thrown into court because it might fall into the hands of a child."

He said the library community will fight passage of such a law and predicted, "If push comes to shove, we'll end up in the courts." The Librarian Florence Burkholder of the Collinsville Memorial Public Library commented, "I just don't feel it is the librarian's place to tell people what to read. If it is objectionable, bring it back...don't read it."

"This is definite censorship. There is no way to say it is anything else. The library community is more than a little upset," she added.

Earlier this year, House Bill 462, introduced by Rep. Jane Barnes (R-Oak Lawn), was passed out of the House executive committee 167 and sent to the full House.

Senate Bill 164, introduced by Sen. Jeremiah Joyce (D-Chicago) is before the Senate Judiciary Committee II currently for hearings. One hearing was held last week and another is scheduled April 22.

The bills would end the special exemption librarians have to protect them from charges of distributing allegedly pornographic or harmful literature to minors.

A Class 4 felony is punishable by one to three years in prison.

The bills say a book would be considered harmful if it goes substantially beyond contemporary limits of candor in describing or representing nudity, sex or excretion.

The bills describe material harmful if its redeeming social importance is substantially less than its purport appeal.

Some librarians believe that the House bill has a good chance of passage. The Lewis and Clark Library that is the policy of the Granite City Public Library is a member, is encouraging library users to call or write their legislators. A petition drive is under consideration.

New legislation

Madison Librarian Louise Kern said the new laws would not change the current operations at the Madison Public Library, but said she does not feel the law is necessary. "I feel the same as most librarians. Nobody wants to see material that isn't decent circulated to our young people. However, I feel they are mixing apples and oranges, using adult books to make their point that should not be in the hands of children."

The Madison library has only one of the eight targeted books, "Our Bodies, Our Selves," which is not kept on the public shelves and must be checked out by an adult, she said.

"It is the duty of the librarian to see that these books are kept from the children, if at all possible. Our Bodies, Our Selves, is to be used strictly as a teaching manual for adults to teach children," the librarian explained.

She also said, "The Madison library's books are needed so that, if by chance a young person brings one to our desk to check out, there is a code which automatically makes us stop and take a second look. If we feel this is not geared to their age bracket, it is denied to them or they must come in with proof that their parents feel they may read these books. If you don't do that, you have the parents down on you."

"We don't censor, as such, but we try to protect youngsters who wander into the wrong department and get material which is not geared to their age level," Louis Kern concluded.

Stack said that if the law passes, it will be difficult for the librarians to determine which books are "harmful materials," and which are not. "That depends upon the person," he stated.

He said it is impossible for librarians to read every new book to see that it is safe, so he must rely upon reviewing sources, which offer brief descriptions of the content of each book. He also said that it is the policy of the Granite City Public Library to automatically purchase the 10 best selling books each month, regardless of their content. "They are very popular, and a lot of people check them out, even though many of them are risqué."

"It's scary. The thing about this (proposed) law is that once you say you have to prevent a youngster from getting in the stacks and picking out the wrong book, the effect that could have is you become overly cautious what you buy for adults, afraid it might fall into the hands of children."

Stack said the main Granite City library is divided into two sections, the children's section and the adult stacks. Children, under the age of junior high school students, are not normally allowed in the adult stacks, unless they are working on a specific research project or their parents have signed an application for an adult card for their children.

He said he believes one of two of the eight books cited by legislators as harmful are in the adult stacks here, but can only be checked out by adults.

Barry Faye of the American Civil Liberties Union said he fears librarians might try to obey the law rather than challenge it, which could result in removal of many books, including best sellers, from libraries. He said the "harmful materials" law probably is unconstitutional and comes very close to infringing on individuals' constitutional rights.

The Granite City Library Board met Tuesday night and a discussion of the proposed bills ensued. Those members who voiced an opinion said they oppose the bills and some said they plan to write or call their legislators to ask that the bills be defeated. No organized opposition by the library board is planned, however.

Canvass certifies Nameoki victors

Following is the amended vote chart for Nameoki Township's voting April 7, as finalized by the township's canvass board Monday night. All of the figures in precincts one and two were changed by the canvass, which changed the total vote for each candidate and reversed the outcome in the race for tax collector. Several candidates are expected to file for recounts in most or all precincts. Winners names are in bold face type.

Asthma patients find difficulty in breathing

Asthma means a physical condition in which the sufferer has a very hard time breathing.

Asthma, says the American Medical Association's Handbook of First Aid and Emergency Care, results from the narrowing of the airway bronchial tubes.

Often, but not always, an attack results from exposure to something to which the victim is allergic.

Infections, colds, changes in the weather or emotional factors also can lead to an attack.

Symptoms of asthma are difficulty in breathing out, or exhaling; a wheezing or whistling sound as air is expelled; nervousness, tenseness and fright; coughing.

Also, heavy perspiring; nausea and vomiting; bluish tinge to the skin due to lack of oxygen; victim finds it's easier to breathe sitting up; choking sensation.

If it is the first episode of suspected but undiagnosed asthma, seek medical attention.

If a doctor cannot be reached, take the victim to the nearest hospital.

Comfort and reassure the victim, particularly a child who may be frightened by the experience, since emotional stress may make the condition worse. Keep the victim sitting upright.

If attacks have occurred before, give the victim the prescribed medications according to the doctor's instructions.

Do not give the victim anything else, without physician's advice.

Report the attack to the physician, even if the victim seems better after a day.

Some asthma symptoms demand immediate medical attention.

This happens if the medication fails to improve breathing; if breathing can barely be heard; inability to cough; increased bluish tinge to skin; pulse rate more than 120 beats per minute; increased anxiety; victim tries to pull up shoulders and chin to get air.

These symptoms mean the victim is near collapse from respiratory failure, and needs help at once from the doctor or nearest hospital emergency room.

Electronics students excel in tournament

The Granite City Vocational Industrial Club of America, sponsored by Gus Lignoul, took part in regional competition in industrial electronics.

Three vocational electronics students from North High School finished in the top 20 in the state of Illinois. The state qualifiers are: Steve Gibson, senior; Thomas Wyrostek, senior; and Dan Smith, junior.

They will compete at the Illinois State Skills Olympic contest in Springfield on April 30, May 1 and May 2.

Scholarships are awarded to top finishers. The Illinois state winner will advance to national competition in Atlanta, Ga.

AIRMAN PROMOTED
Joseph R. Votoupal, son of Joseph R. Votoupal of 1213 Iowa, Madison, and Millie Votoupal of 2124 Delmar Ave., Granite City, has been promoted in the U.S. Air Force to the rank of staff sergeant. Votoupal is a command and control radio operator at Incirlik Common Defense Installation, Turkey.

Workshop for custodians at SIUE

A workshop designed to aid personnel doing custodial and plant operations work will be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Tuesday, April 21 from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Sponsored by the Office of Continuing Education in cooperation with Plant Operations, the workshop will feature four area representatives of the operations and sanitation field.

Owen Flynn, president of Woodford Laboratories in St. Louis, will conduct sessions on "The Importance of Sanitation" and "Super-visory and Management Skills in Custodial and Plant Operations Work." William Foley, president of Foley Janitorial Supply Co. in East St. Louis, will discuss "Restroom and Shower Maintenance."

John Donnelly, territory manager for Johnson Wax Co. in St. Louis, will speak on "The Care and Maintenance of Carpets," while Lou Troka, representative for the Carrier Machinery & Systems Division in St. Louis, will conduct a session on "The Care and Maintenance of Air Handling Units."

The workshop will be held in the Oak Room, which is on the second floor of the University Center. The cost is $30 and includes materials, refreshments and breaks and lunch. Registration is due by April 18.

For more information about this workshop, interested people may call the Office of Continuing Education at (618) 692-3310.

Gerontology program plans drug seminar

The Gerontology Program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is sponsoring a seminar entitled "Surviving in the Drug Culture," Wednesday, April 22.

Doris Bell, assistant professor of nursing at SIUE, will lead the session. She will discuss various aspects of self medication and what people should know about the effects of drugs.

The program is part of a seminar series offered this spring free of charge to senior citizens in the Metropolitan region.

The session will meet from 1:30 to 4 p.m. in the Mississippi Room in the University Center. To obtain additional information, interested persons may contact Lisa Pettit at 618-692-3454.

Venice schools adopt new policies

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record
To comply with recommendations of an evaluation team from the Illinois State Board of Education, which visited the Venice School District last fall, a new grievance procedure for handicapped persons and two amendments to existing policies were adopted by the Venice Board of Education at its meeting Monday night. At the same time the state team was evaluating the Venice vocational program, the team also held an on-site civil rights evaluation, focusing primarily on the handicapped and accessibility of district buildings.

It was the first such evaluation of a school district in Madison County and one of the first in the State of Illinois, Venice Superintendent of Schools Robert Vickers explained.

In accordance with the team's recommendations, the board added to the existing "Organizational Rights" policy: "No person shall on the basis of race, color, national origin, handicap, or sex, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any educational program or activity offered or conducted by this district, or conducted on this district's property by others."

The existing "Personnel" policy was amended to read: "Further, in the Venice School District is committed to a policy of Equal Employment Opportunity and to this end there shall be no discrimination practiced on the basis of race, color, national origin, handicap, or sex."

In other business, the board agreed to allow the use of a school bus for transporting children to and from Granite City bowling lanes each Saturday for a special program during a six-week period, providing the Venice Park Board furnishes a copy of adequate insurance.

Community sunrise service in GC park

A community sunrise service on Easter Sunday is scheduled at 6 a.m. in the Wilson Park rink-pavilion, Lutheran, 23rd Street and Grand Avenue.

The event will feature Professor Dale Meyer of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, as guest speaker, and a Brass Choir leading the congregational singing.

Sponsoring the resurrection festival worship service is the Quad-Cities Lutheran Bureau. Member churches include coverage and a signed agreement accepting responsibility for any damage which may occur to the vehicle.

Under the program, explained by Dale Crawford at the meeting, both the bus driver and gasoline costs will be paid by the trip sponsors.

A similar request to use a bus for attendance at St. Louis Cardinal baseball games during the Venice park's summer recreational program will be decided at a later date.

The Head Start program was granted permission to use the cafeteria and new gymnasium, and the Venice Public Schools at 6 p.m. May 27, for a pupil graduation ceremony and reception for parents, unless a school activity conflicts.

The Venice School District's annual sports night banquet will take place Thursday, May 14, in the Officers Club at the Granite City Army Installation.

In addition to the athletes, Board Member Wilbert Glasper suggested that scholastic achievers also should be recognized at the event.

"I believe we should also honor students who go out and represent our school or have achieved distinction in other ways, as well as the athletes," he said.

Superintendent of the Venice school system offered to talk with school administrators and try to establish guidelines for recognizing students, other than those presently involved in the banquet.

Dramatic musical

Two performances of "His Last Days," a dramatic musical which tells the story of Easter, will be presented at the Church of God, 1205 W. Pontoon Road, this weekend.

The initial performance will be given at 7 p.m. Saturday and repeated at the 10:45 a.m. worship service Easter Sunday.

A costumed cast of 25 persons will be featured in the religious presentation, which is highlighted with singing and acting. The musical was written by Dallas Holmes.

The Rev. O. J. Cloninger, pastor, said the public is invited to attend either performance. The Church of God also will have sunrise services at 6 a.m. Easter Sunday, and church school classes, starting at 9:30 a.m.

Easter events at Concordia

"Don't Be So Slow to Believe!" will be the theme for Easter Sunday's Resurrection Festival Communion service at 10:15 a.m. at Concordia Lutheran Church, 2301 Grand Ave.

The church choir, under the direction of Ruth Rankin, will offer "Open the Gates of the Temple" by Mrs. Joseph Knapp and "Break Forth in Joy" by Richard Smith.

The trumpet of Peter Shelton will accompany the choir and sound the descent for the congregation's singing of the resurrection hymn, "I Know My Redeemer Lives."

The Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer, pastor, will preside at the communion table and Denise Rankin, organist, will accompany the singing.

Tonight, the congregation will commemorate Maundy Thursday with special Eucharist worship at 7:30 p.m.

Good Friday, the day that Christ died, will be observed at Concordia with quiet and solemn Vespers at 7:30 p.m.

"All in our community are especially invited to the Good Friday and Easter worship services," the pastor said.

Mission's

Easter activities

A series of activities celebrating the Easter season is scheduled this week at the Gospel Mission, 204 E. 20th St.

Sunrise prayer services will take place at 6:30 a.m. Easter Sunday at the local mission, with the Rev. Charles Williams, superintendent of the Sunshine Mission in St. Louis, as the guest speaker.

Inspirational music will be provided by Sue Hopkins, soloist.

Immediately following the service, a continental breakfast is planned, according to Mrs. Bethel J. Davis, mission superintendent, who invited the public to attend.

Church classes will be held at 9 a.m. Sunday. Dr. George A. Rosenthal will deliver the Easter message at the 7 o'clock services on Sunday night.

An Easter egg hunt for preschool age to 11-year-old children, sponsored by the Sunday school class of Curtis Champion, is set for 1 p.m. Saturday, on the Benton Street side of Wilson Park, Mrs. Davis advised.

Games will be played and gifts will be presented to youngsters finding the most eggs.

Class members will be assisted at the hunt by Mrs. Jean Champion and Mrs. Linda Fowler.

Obituaries

Leslie Jones

Leslie J. Jones, 73, of Granite City, a veteran of U.S. Army service in World War II, died at 4:53 p.m. Monday, April 13, 1981, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

He had been ill four weeks and in the hospital for the same length of time.

Mr. Jones retired in 1970 from the Granite City Army Installation, where he was employed 30 years as a truck driver.

He had resided in Granite City about 50 years, having previously lived in St. Louis. He was born in Centaur, Mo. Mr. Jones was in the Army from 1942 to 1945.

He was of the Protestant faith. Among the survivors are his wife, Mrs. Emily (LaRose) Jones; three daughters, Mrs. John (Loretta) Worthen of Granite City, Mrs. Robert (Violet) Clifton of Edwardsville and Mrs. William (Ruth) Wiegand of Pella, Iowa; three sisters, Mrs. Fred (Anna) Emeyer of Granite City, and Mrs. Roger (Beile) Dodson and Mrs. Leo (Margaret) Unruh, both of Cuba, Mo.; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. today, April 16, at Mercer Mortuary Chapel, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., with the Rev. Jeff Cheadle officiating. Burial was in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Memorials may be contributed to the American Cancer Fund.

St. John Lutheran to mark Maundy Thursday

NEW PASTOR. Rev. Roy Hubbard has assumed duties as pastor of the Victory Pentecostal Church, 2601 Cayuga St. It is his first assignment by the Pentecostal Church of God of America, and plans Easter services at 11 a.m. Sunday following Sunday School at 10 a.m. Evening services will be at 7 p.m. An egg hunt for youngsters is to be held on the church yard at 2 p.m.

Maundy (Holy) Thursday will be observed at St. John Lutheran Church, St. Clair Avenue at Dale Avenue, with a memorial Holy Communion service, at 7 p.m. The recently-confirmed young people's class will experience its "first Communion."

All communicant members of the congregation are also invited to be the Lord's guests at this service. The occasion is the anniversary of the institution of the Lord's Holy Supper.

The pastor of the congregation, the Rev. S. Boda, will be the officiant and will deliver the Communion message. He will be assisted by Seminarian Joe Judge III. Organist will be Mrs. June Barton of St. Louis assisted by Mrs. Theresa Judge.

On Good Friday, the congregation will assemble at 7 p.m. to witness a chancel drama, "Were You There?" It will be presented by members of the congregation, under the direction of Mr. Patricia Strauser. It will be a reenactment of our Lord's last hours of that first Good Friday.

The congregation will celebrate Easter by joining many others in an annual trek to Wilson park's ice-skating pavilion for the Easter Sunrise service at 6 a.m. Speaking at this half-hour service will be the Rev. Dale Meyer. A brass and in accompanying the singing. Coffee and donuts will be served. The general public is invited.

Festival Easter services at the church will be at 10 a.m. The choir will sing, "With Joyful Voice," by T. Neander. The local pastor will deliver the Victory Message regarding Christ's Resurrection Power.

The annual Easter "egg hunt" for children of the local Sunday School will be held on the Church lawn at 1 p.m. Children through the sixth grade are invited. This will be followed by a "hot dog roast" for the Sunday School children. In case of rain, the activities will be moved indoors. Supt. of the Sunday School is O. T. Potter; secretaries are Mrs. Patricia Strauser and Mrs. Dorothy Hoffman.

Health symposium is set May 4-5 at SIUE

A mental health symposium will be held May 4-5 by the School of Nursing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The program, "Primary Prevention Strategies in Mental Health," will include small group workshops and presentations by speakers in behavioral and health sciences.

Martha Welch, assistant professor of nursing at SIUE, said the symposium will be beneficial for professionals and students who plan to work in mental health fields.

Parenting education is one aspect of mental health prevention that will be discussed. Child development and learning how children and adolescents see the world around them is something we think may prevent mental health disturbances," Welch explained. "This kind of education can also help potential child abusers identify with their problems."

There will also be lectures and workshops on stress problems. Dr. Nola Pender of the School of Nursing at Northern Illinois University will address the symposium on stress management.

Ms. Welch said, "We intend to emphasize how recreation and assertiveness, as well as other methods, can help most people reduce stress."

The hospice movement and learning to cope with death is another part of the symposium. Linda Steele and Doris Bell, both assistant professors of nursing at SIUE, will discuss how the hospice is a contributor to healthy coping.

Other topics of the program include clarifying values in schools, presented by Donald Keefe, associate professor of education at SIUE; community health assessment and planning, by Kent Rissman, a planning associate for the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency; and the biological aspects of primary prevention in mental health, by Ann Birnbaum, assistant professor of nursing at SIUE.

The symposium will meet from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on May 4 and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on May 5 in the Conference Center of the University Center at SIUE. The registration deadline for the course is April 27. Fees for the program are $55 for professionals and $30 for students.

To obtain additional information, interested persons may contact Martha Welch in the School of Nursing at SIUE at 618-692-3960.

Township electors support senior citizens' programs

Authorization for Granite City Township to spend up to $20,000 in the 1981-82 fiscal year for services and facilities for the township's senior citizens was granted by the township's electors (all registered voters of the township) during the annual town meeting Tuesday night.

The action is not binding upon the city council, which also serves as the town board of trustees, but the board has traditionally followed the wishes of the electors.

Retiring Alderman Roy Poulos was selected by the 22 electors present as the moderator for the annual town meeting and Attorney William Schooley read the by-laws and the supervisor's annual report. They were approved.

The electors also granted authority to the town board to hire a certified public accountant of the board's choosing to audit the annual books.

In Supervisor Nelson Hagmann's annual report, for the fiscal year which ended Feb. 28, 1981, he showed the town fund having a starting balance of $16,892, expenditures totaling $41,781 and a balance at the end of the fiscal year of $5,027.

Town fund expenditures included $26,039 to township elector officials, $107,944 for deputies and clerks in the assessor's office, $29,290 for expenses of that office, $188,128 for township officials' expenses, $3,228 in tax collector's expenses, a total $3,348 in per diem payments to the aldermen and mayor, and $53,741 in municipal retirement payments.

In the general assistance fund, the supervisor's annual report shows a beginning balance of $31,193, receipts of $220,379, expenses totaling $167,378 and a balance Feb. 28, 1981, of $84,194. However, the report notes there were unpaid obligations of $10,214 at the end of the fiscal year, leaving a carry-over into the new fiscal year of $73,980.

Six burglaries being investigated

Burglars were active Monday night and early Tuesday, taking a $300 air compressor, $150 worth of carpenter tools and a $75 lawnmower from Melvin Sircum's storage shed at 2943 E. 24th St., where a hap was pried off; stealing a $50 kitchen table, two $20 lawn chairs and a $6 padlock from the apartment of Joyce Turner at 2540 Parkway Drive.

Also, taking a music box, 40 to 50 eight-track tapes, food, costume jewelry, wash cloths and bath towels from the apartment of Darlene Harris, 3403 Kirkpatrick Homes; and stealing a sheet of 15-cent stamps from Alright Cleaners, 2209 Madison Ave., where a window was forced open.

A burglar took a half-bottle of pills between Sunday and Tuesday at the apartment of Mrs. Sheila Bainter, 2015 Washington Ave. It was discovered Monday that a burglar who broke a window at a Rite Electric Co. supply garage, 22nd Street and Lee Avenue, took a toolbox, hand tools and socket sets.

General assistance fund expenditures included $70,412 for administration and salaries and $96,965 in direct assistance for qualifying recipients for food, rent, fuel, utilities, medical bills, medications and burial expenses.

The revenue sharing fund began the 1980-81 fiscal year with a balance of $60,242 and receipts during the year totaled $160,800. Expenses included $66,063 to maintain the township building, $65,114 in salaries, supplies and services for senior citizens programs, $9,022 in expenses to operate the senior citizens' buses, $22,163 for bleachers at Granite City

High School North, fencing at Anchorage Homes and playground equipment in the parks, and $19,062 in municipal retirement payments for total expenses of $184,027.

Including $763 in an interest-bearing savings account, the balance at the end of the fiscal year in the revenue sharing fund was $37,779, the report shows.

The township's municipal retirement fund showed a balance of $19,472 at the beginning of the fiscal year, receipts totaling $86,553 during the year and expenditures of $64,691 during the year, leaving a closing balance of $41,333.

Communion service to mark Maundy Thursday

The congregation of the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church will gather at 6:15 p.m. today at the church for its traditional Maundy Thursday Passover-Communion service, starting with a salad and, sandwich supper.

"Since the Lord's Supper was instituted at the ancient Passover, a greater understanding of what Christ fulfilled is gained by an acquaintance with this celebration," the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor, explained.

On Easter Sunday, a community sunrise service will begin at 7 a.m. when the message will focus on "The Inner Resurrection."

A fellowship breakfast will follow at 8 a.m., served by the Board of Deacons, assisted by men of the church.

A children's Easter egg hunt will get underway at 9 a.m. Sunday on the church lawn.

Sunday school at 9:30 a.m., will feature a program of biblical and historical facts of "Noah's Ark," including the current interest in recent discoveries on Mount Ararat.

"One Crowded Hour of Life" will be the theme of the 10:45 Easter morning worship service, with special music by the Sanctuary and Children's choirs.

A "Love Loaf Ingathering" will take place

Sunday, April 26, at the church, with Dennis Morman of Campus Crusade as the featured speaker at a men's breakfast, starting at 8 a.m.

Both Dennis and Betty Morman will meet informally with adults at 9:30 a.m. coffee hour.

At the 10:45 a.m. service, April 26, the congregation will hear a presentation by the Campus Crusade staff members as the "Love Loaves and One Great Hour of Sharing" series is completed.

Early Easter services at Niedringhaus

Rev. Louis Frick, Pastor of the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue stated there will be an early service on Easter Sunday at 7:30 with a light breakfast following in Wesley Hall. The public is invited to join the church members for this special early service to begin the Easter day.

Sunday School will begin at 9 a.m. and the regular morning worship will begin at 10:15 a.m.

LOOT SALVATION ARMY BUILDING

Two microphones, two speakers, a tape player, an amplifier and a sound mixer were stolen from the chapel at the Salvation Army Community Center, 3007 E. 23rd St., between 4:45 p.m. Monday and 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. Officials found tape had been placed on a door latch to keep it from locking when closed.

GC Park egg hunt Saturday

More than 2,500 colored plastic eggs, filled with jelly beans, are ready to be hidden in straw at the Wilson Park Ice rink for Saturday's annual Easter Egg Hunt.

The event is staged each year by the Granite City Park District for preschool through first grade youngsters.

First grade youngsters may collect eggs starting at 9 a.m. Saturday; children in kindergarten at 9:30 a.m.; and preschool age youngsters at 10 a.m.

The eggs will be divided among the three age groups, with prizes being awarded to those children collecting the most eggs.

To qualify for a prize, a child must be a resident of the Granite City Park District, a spokesman advised.

Youngsters must also provide their own containers in which to gather the eggs, it was stressed.

Easter events at St. Bartholomew

Holy Week and Easter observances will continue tonight at St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church, 22nd Street and Grand Avenue, the Rev. Wilbur L. Lear has announced.

The Maundy Thursday Eucharist at 6:30 p.m. will be followed with the Blessed Sacrament being taken to the Altar of Repose and a Watch of Devotion being kept there until 10 p.m.

On Good Friday, the Liturgy of the Crucified will be celebrated and Holy Communion will be given at 12:30 p.m. at St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Glen Carbon and at St. Bartholomew's Church at 6:30 p.m.

During the latter service, Mrs. Elizabeth Nicol will present a program of special music.

On Saturday, the reading of the Prophecies, renewal of baptismal vows and blessing of the New Fire will take place at 7 p.m. in Granite City and at 5 p.m. in the Glen Carbon church.

On Easter Sunday, the Holy Eucharist will be celebrated twice in St. Bartholomew's Church, with a low celebration at 7:15 a.m. and the traditional Solemn Eucharist at 11 a.m., and at 9 a.m. at St. James Church.

Easter confessions will be heard Saturday by calling 878-8907, 876-7245, for an appointment, Father Lear advised.

Church members who are ill or confined at home also may call for Easter communion.

THROUGH THE FILES

50 Years Ago

April 17, 1931

Delegates from all Madison County cities and one delegation from East St. Louis will meet at the Y.M.C.A. here Friday evening to discuss plans to assure a project which will make Horseshoe Lake a State park. There has already been considerable headway made to date and those actively interested in the project are almost certain the proposal will go through.

Tentative plans call for rejuvenating of the lakehouse property, installation of a golf course on the island, and dredging of the lake bottom to remove excess mud and make the lake an ideal boating and swimming resort.

25 Years Ago

April 16, 1956

City Inspector Jack Fricker didn't know what was wrong last Thursday when he discovered a telegram in his "call box" at city hall. "I thought something had happened to someone in my family," the inspector said.

As it turned out, the telegram was a complaint from an irate resident. "Dear Sir: The garbage man and refuse man absolutely refuses to empty containers. I am loaded. Thank you."

The containers were emptied within a short time after the telegram was received.

Gardeners in the area became concerned shortly after 7 o'clock this morning when wind driven snow flurries nearly obscured vision for several minutes. However, the flurries halted almost as quickly as they started and there was no trace of them a short time later.

10 Years Ago

April 15, 1971

The problem-ridden Mississippi River Festival at the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus has run into still another snag. The $19,000 tent which housed the orchestra and 1,850 reserved seats has been damaged by high winds and snow during the winter. SIU-SW officials were informed that the southeast section of the huge pavilion-type tent has collapsed and will require about $5,000 in repairs before it can be ready for this year's festival.

Man faces two weapon charges

Clifford R. Barnes, 47, Alton, was arrested in the parking lot of the El Gato Tavern, 18th Street and Delmar Avenue, at 2:25 a.m. today and was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and failure to have a firearm owner's identification card.

An officer on patrol alleged seeing two men struggling over possession of a gun in the parking lot and when he intervened, the officer was told that Barnes got the gun from his car and fired a shot in the air.

The witness also alleged that Barnes had threatened to shoot the windows of the witness truck. He was lodged in the Granite City Jail.

Good Friday community service at Niedringhaus

The annual Good Friday interfaith Community Good Friday Service will be held in the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church in downtown Granite City beginning at 12 o'clock noon.

The "Quad-Cities" Ministerial Association provides this opportunity for area business people as well as the community at large.

The Rev. Don F. Pierson, Ministerial Association, will bring the message, entitled, "God's Rescue Story."

Miss Kathy Turk of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church will provide special music. The Rev. Louis Frick of the downtown church will be assisted by Rev. James Brown of the St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ congregation and Father Joe of St. Elizabeth's Pastoral Care Department. The Madison County Savings & Loan Association will sponsor the broadcast of the event on radio station WGN.

PRISON DIRECTOR
Governor James R. Thompson appointed Michael P. Lane as director of Illinois Corrections on Monday, Lane, 32, Springfield, has served as temporary director of the department since Jan. 20 and was warden of Menard prison in 1977-79. The post of director pays $46,000 a year.

Union Electric increase

Electric bills are going up 10 percent for Quad-City area residents served by Union Electric Co., including most residents of Mitchell. Yesterday, the Illinois Commerce Commission granted the increase to UE from its 68.753 Illinois customers only, which includes Alton, East St. Louis and portions of the Quad-City area more in the attic.

Patrick new Lt. Gov. of Lions District 1-G

Pontoon Beach Lion Donald D. Patrick, 3819 Pontoon Road, was elected lieutenant governor of Lions District 1-G for 1981-82 and governor designate for 1982-83 during the district's 29th annual convention held at the Carlinville, Ill., High School last week.

He is a present deputy district governor of the district which is comprised of 48 Lions clubs with 2,300 members in 12 southwestern Illinois counties. Patrick also is a charter member of the Pontoon club.

Patrick, at 33, is the youngest Lion ever to be elected to the office of lieutenant governor and will become the youngest district governor when he is installed in that office in 1982.

Others elected to various posts during the convention included: current Lt. Gov. Walter Potts, Camp Point Lions Club, is the post of district governor, and Mel Schuchardt, of the Godfrey Lions Club, past district governor, as District 1-G trustee to the Lions of Illinois Foundation. All of the new officers will begin their positions on July 1.

Keynote speaker at the convention was Lions International Director Joseph DiDuca of Los Gatos, Calif.

Lion Patrick was elected on the first ballot after his name was placed into nomination for the post by Pontoon Lions President David Schermer. The nomination was given a second by past president of the Madison Lions, Rich Bright, and also by Granite City Lions President Elmer Wortham.

During the convention's evening dinner program, Patrick gave his acceptance speech to the 460 Lion delegates and their wives. During his speech he voiced his appreciation to the presidents and members of the Granite City, Madison, Pontoon Beach and Edwardsville Lions clubs for their support and efforts on his behalf.

The Pontoon Beach Lioness Club was also singled out for their support during his campaign. Nine Lioness clubs are also in Lions District 1-G.

Patrick concluded his address to the delegates saying "I look forward to working with and for our new governor-elect, Walter Potts, and the Lions, Lionesses and ladies of this great district. Thank you all so very much for your confidence and support."

The district held its annual necrology ceremony at the close of the convention to commemorate all of the deceased Lions of the past year. Local Lions remembered were Cooper Moore, John Sedwick and Claude Echols of the Madison club and Chester E. Dean of the Pontoon Beach Lions.

Asparagus growing and harvesting

Asparagus is a perennial vegetable crop that ushers spring to the gardener's table. Asparagus is ready for harvest when the spears are six to eight inches long. They can be cut off at the base with a knife or they can be snapped off by hand. All of the snapped spear is edible and there is no effect on the plant from harvesting in this manner.

The harvest season can last for six to eight weeks from established plantings. But don't harvest from one and two year old plantings, and make only a few pickings from a three year old planting.

Yields can be increased with early spring applications of rotten manure and one to two pounds of garden fertilizer per 100 square feet. Repeat the fertilizer application again after the last harvest.

If you are starting a new planting, buy healthy, large crowns. These should be planted as soon as possible. A wide trench or furrow should be six to eight inches deep (deeper if compost or manure is buried below the plants). Set the crowns 12 inches apart at the six-to-eight inch depth. Cover them with about two inches of soil at planting time, and gradually fill the trench with soil during the remainder of the season. Control weeds to reduce competition and apply fertilizer annually and you will enjoy table-fresh asparagus for years to come.

Pests and weather are the limiting factors in growing fruits at home. Gardeners can talk about the weather but can't do much about controlling it. But pests, both insects and diseases can be controlled by proper timing of safe and effective pesticides.

Fruit pests include diseases and insects. Both are troublesome at some time or another, and sometimes at the same time. Pest control is the controlling or preventing infection or infestation of the fruits, leaves, or plants. Each fruit specie has one or more serious pest that must be checked so that normal fruits can develop.

There is no easy method to grow clean, spotless, delicious fruit. A few varieties have resistance to one or more diseases (such as scab-resistant Prima apple), but generally a spray or dust program is needed. Disease resistance does nothing to help against insects. The old adage "that ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is especially true. Pesticides applied prior to infection periods prevent the serious buildup of any pest. This is the secret to success.

In general, all fruit plantings should be sprayed before blossoming. Do not apply insecticides when plants are blooming. When the petals have fallen, the petal-fall or calyx spray is applied. Thereafter, three or four sprays at seven-day intervals are needed for minimum control. For maximum pest control, continue the sprays at seven to ten day intervals until harvest. Non-bearing plant may require only one or two pesticide treatments to prevent defoliation by pests.

All-purpose or home-orchard sprays or dusts are satisfactory for most home fruits. They should contain a fungicide such as captan, and one or more insecticides such as malathion, methoxychlor and carbaryl (sevin). These ingredients can be purchased separately and mixed at home if you so desire. Add zineb, maneb, or ferbam to apple sprays until mid-May for rust disease control. Avoid using sevin on apples for 30 days after bloom.

Sprays and dusts should be equally effective. However, sprays have more staying power during a rain, withstanding up to two inches of rainfall, whereas dusts need to be reapplied after each heavy rain.

By using good materials and making the repeat applications at the right intervals, good insect and disease-free fruit should be grown.

Navy Mothers 850 elects

Quadrant City Navy Mothers Unit 850 elected Elizabeth Ramsey as commander at its meeting last week at the VFW Hall.

The members also voted donations to various organizations and made plans to install the new officers.

Mrs. Ramsey will succeed Irma Manning as commander.

Others selected to serve in 1981-82 are:

Clara Layton, first vice commander; Mary Lee Busler, second vice commander; Jean Teller, adjutant; Hazel Jones, finance officer; Alberta Ethington, judge advocate; Verna Spurrier, chaplain.

Peggy Earhart, color bearer; Gladys Markovich, banner bearer; and Della Miller and Frances Westbrook, first and second matrons-at-arms.

Trustees—Della Rabb, one year, Norma Darnell, two years, and Maxine Thebeau, three years; and auditors, Edna Miller, chairman, Mrs. Manning and Margaret Minzes.

Public installation ceremonies will take place at 8 p.m. Saturday, May 2, at the VFW Hall.

Donations of $25 each were authorized to the Granite City Chapter of the American Cancer Society, Memphis (Tenn.) Naval Hospital, Camp Lejeune Naval Hospital and to aid victims of the recent tornado in Granite City.

The group also contributed

$10 toward the Navy Mothers' program paper for the state convention in July at Peoria, and sent $100 to the Navy Mothers of America to be recorded and returned to Unit 850 for local welfare projects.

In the social hour, refreshments were served and prizes were won by Mrs. Westbrook and Mrs. Manning.

Suhre-Mooshegian

Bouquets of white and cranberry mums and carnations adorned the altar of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison and the white carpeted aisle was illuminated with burning tapers in branch candelabra for the wedding on March 21 of Miss Karen Ann Mooshegian and Carl H. Suhre.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Mooshegian, 1811 Sixth St. Madison. Parents of the groom are Mrs. Phyllis Abernathy, 3538 California Ave., Alton, and the late Wilbur F. Suhre.

Father Conrad Motola performed a double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Nuptial selections included "Longer Than," "Theme from Love Story," "The Wedding Song," "If," and "We've Only Just Begun."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Mooshegian wore an A-line gown of white chiffon over taffeta featuring a sweetheart neckline and fitted bodice accented with Venice lace motifs, etched with seed pearls.

The lace trim was repeated on the long chiffon bishop sleeves and encircled the hem of the softly flowing skirt and chapel train.

She wore a lace headpiece to hold in place her veil of bridal illusion bordered with tiny lace appliques.

The bridal bouquet was composed of silk white carnations and cranberry rosebuds centered in baby's breath and tied with lace streamers.

Attending the bride were Laura Mendez, Donna Hecker, Karen Suhre, a sister of the groom, Helen Galinski and Donna Ireland, the bride's sisters.

They were gowned alike in cranberry polyester dresses featuring belted skirts and knit crocheted blouse bodices with short split sleeves.

Each held a long stem white silk rose festooned with baby's breath and cranberry ribbons. The attendants also wore cranberry silk roses on white lace ribbons in their hair.

Mrs. Carl Suhre

Bill Drake served as best man. Chris Brueggeman, David, Eric and Robert Mooshegian, brothers of the bride, and Richard and Robert Suhre, the groom's brothers, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Guests were received at a buffet reception at Engelbert Hall in Madison at 6 o'clock in the evening. The rehearsal dinner was also given at Engelbert Hall hosted by the groom's mother.

After a wedding trip to Tanersville, Pa., the couple is now living in Granite City.

A graduate of Assumption High School, the bride is now employed at Banquet Foods Corp., St. Louis, as an inventory control technician.

The groom is an Alton High School graduate and will graduate in June from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville where he is majoring in accounting. He also works as a part time employee at St. Joseph Hospital in Alton.

Gray-Hoelter

Miss Jane Marie Hoelter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hoelter, 3012 Wayne Ave., became the bride of Charles Lynford Gray, son of Mrs. Doreen Gray, 3945 Park Lane, on March 28, at St. Margaret Mary Roman Catholic Church.

Father Walter Werth performed the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Wedding selections were furnished by Jeanne Pieper, guitarist.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a long white organza A-line gown designed with a molded bodice of Chantilly lace featuring a Queen Anne neckline, etched with seed pearls.

The bishop style sleeves were created in matching lace and her apron effect skirt of four tiers was trimmed with Chantilly at the hemline and fell softly into a chapel train.

She chose a lace camelot headpiece to hold her veil of bridal illusion and she held a bouquet of roses, pom poms and miniature carnations.

Honor attendant, Susan Hoelter, a sister of the bride, wore a formal Daphne rose floral print dress fashioned with a blouse bodice, boat style neckline and slit chapel sleeves.

The bridesmaids, Debbie, Patty and Cassandra Gray, sisters of the groom, were attired in identical gowns in a wine polyester.

Each attendant carried an arrangement of miniature carnations and baby's breath.

Chiara Kleeschulte served as flower girl. She was dressed in a pink frock created with puff sleeves, a round neckline and ruffle flounce at the hemline. She held a basket of rose petals.

Mrs. Hoelter, mother of the bride, selected a long green chiffon gown accented with a beaded pearl trim at the neckline and waist.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Gray, appeared in a pastel blue polyester dress designed with three quarter sleeves and a Venice lace trim at the neckline. Both mothers wore corsages of miniature carnations and roses.

The groom chose his brother, Danny Gray, as best man. Groomsmen included Jim Simpson, Jeff Jones and Joe Gray, another brother.

Ushers were Jeff and Mike Hoelter, the bride's brothers, and Dave Jones.

Elizabeth Connolly and Susan Stanton attended the guest book and Jorja Aerne and Elizabeth Connolly served as lectors.

Mrs. Gray hosted the rehearsal dinner in her home and the reception was held at Croatian Home in Madison.

Both young people are graduates of South High School. The former Miss Hoelter also attended Brown's Business School.

The groom is a Second Class Petty Officer in the U.S. Navy and is stationed in Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray

Caldwell-Greene

Plans for a June wedding were disclosed with the engagement announcement of Miss Linda Sue Greene and G. Craig Caldwell, at a dinner party hosted by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Greene, 22 Meadowlane Drive.

Miss Greene is also the daughter of the late Henry Greene.

Parents of the prospective groom, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Caldwell, reside at 665 Ashland Drive, Mitchell.

The wedding will be solemnized at City Temple Assembly of God Church.

A 1975 graduate of North High School, Miss Greene is now employed at Jones Truck Lines in St. Louis.

Her fiancé is also a North High School graduate and is working at National Marine of Hartford.

Among the guests attending the dinner were Mrs. Larry Elliott and daughters, Donna and Heather and son Jerry of Dexter, Mo., Mrs. Richard Long and daughters, Andrea and Carla, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Greene and son Jason, and Elmer Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Heath

Heath-Kruckeberg

The First United Presbyterian Church was the scene of the wedding on Feb. 21 of Miss Denise Lynn Kruckeberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kruckeberg, of Edwardsville, and Richard Lee Heath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy W. Heath, 2305 Gary Ave.

Musical selections were sung by Linda Goewey.

The Rev. David Maxton performed the double ring ceremony at 8:30 p.m.

For her wedding, the bride selected a long white Chantilly lace gown designed with a molded bodice, Queen Anne neckline and bishop sleeves accented with matching lace motifs.

The bouffant skirt was encircled with a lace edge and extended into a cathedral train featuring a deep flounce.

Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a lace Juliet cap and she held a teardrop bouquet of white carnations, red roses and baby's breath.

Miss Peggy Pfeiffer was the honor attendant and chose a floor length cranberry polyester dress featuring a drape bodice and worn with a matching jacket.

Bridemaids, Theresa Lavora, Donna Bone and Lori Schmidt, a cousin of the bride, were attired in identical style gowns in dusty rose polyester.

Lora Heath, a niece of the groom and Brian Razabek, the bride's cousin, were flower girl and ringbearer, respectively.

Attending the groom were Pete Langhart, Mike Heath, Pete Heath and the evening reception was held at the American Legion Hall in Edwardsville.

After a wedding trip to Bahamas the newlywed couple is now residing in Bethalto.

A graduate of Edwardsville High School, the bride is now employed at Kroger Store in East Alton. Her husband was graduated from South High School and works at Granite City Steel.

Miss Dana L. Wallace and Michael J. Young were united in marriage in an afternoon ceremony solemnized at the Word of Life Tabernacle, 1200 Meridian St., on April 4.

The Rev. James R. LeGarde Sr. officiated at the double ring service at 2:30 p.m. before an altar decorated with arrangements of spring flowers and greenery.

Nuptial selections, "We've Only Just Begun" and "Close To You" were provided by Tammy Pounds.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall L. Thomason, reside at 2009 Edwardsville Road, Madison.

The groom is the son of James Young, Rural Route One, Gregory Lane, Bloomfield, Iowa.

Her wedding, the former Miss Wallace chose a formal length white chiffon gown fashioned with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace designed with a square neckline lavishly accented with seed pearls and long sheer bishop style sleeves enhanced with a Chantilly lace cap at the shoulders and gathered at the wrists with matching lace cuffs.

Her full skirt was accented with pleated and extended into a chapel train.

She wore a lace Juliet cap, etched with pearls, to secure a floor length veil of Chantilly lace trimmed with Venise lace and she held a miniature white silk carnations and red roses intermingled with sprigs of baby's breath tied with long white satin ribbons.

Miss Pam Cluts served as maid of honor with bridesmaids, Miss Karen Goff and Miss Fanni Vasquez.

They selected identical full length dresses in lilac lace over tulle created with halter bodices and softly flowing skirts complemented with matching jackets enhanced with a lilac satin trim.

Virgil Canady attended the groom as best man. Kurtis Kimbro and Frank Stevens, were groomsmen and Ray Piquard seated the guests.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at Polish Hall in Madison.

The bride is a graduate of Granite City High School South and the groom was graduated from Bloomfield High School. He is presently employed at Lindley Trucking Co., here.

They are residing in Madison.

Easter Sunrise Service at Lake View Memorial

The 19th annual ecumenical Easter Sunrise service sponsored by churches of Fairview Heights at Lake View Memorial Gardens, 3000 N. Illinois, Belleville, will be held on Easter Sunday, April 19, from 6 to 6:45 a.m.

The 6:00 o'clock starting time is particularly appropriate since the sun will actually rise on Easter morning at 19 minutes after 5 and will be casting its early morning rays over the assembled crowd, according to the announcement.

As the Easter crowd is convening, the Gas Memorial Carillon will be flooding the gardens with Easter music. A public address system and seating arrangements will be provided for all.

The services will open with a trumpet fanfare by Ed Reidel of Althoff Catholic High School under the direction of Father McEvilly. Rev. Edison Grant of the Crestview Church of the Nazarene will give the invocation and Rev. Bill Fox of the Lake View Southern Baptist Church will lead the congregational singing with Mrs. Charlene Purnell as the accompanist. Father William Rose of St.

Albert the Great Catholic Church will read the Easter story from the scriptures and Rev. Paul Lund of the Church of God will offer the pastoral prayer. Special music will be provided by Mrs. Ruth Maloney of East Carondelet. Mrs. Maloney, a member of Lake View Southern Baptist Church, is an accomplished concert soloist, having earned a Masters' Degree in both organ and voice. She will sing "Behold the Man of Sorrows" and "I Was in His Mind."

It has been the practice of the Fairview Heights clergy to have a different Fairview Heights pastor bring the Easter message each year. This year Rev. William Wescoe of the First Church of the Nazarene will preach the topic of "The Good News of Easter."

Rev. Sam Totten of Christ United Methodist Church serves as chairman of the clergy and will deliver the welcome on their behalf and also make any announcements.

Following the sermon, Ed Reidel will present a trumpet solo "The Holy City," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Purnell.

The services will conclude with the benediction by Dr. Harold Paul of St. John United Church of Christ.

Preparations are being made for more than 1,000 people. Laymen from the various churches serve as traffic directors and ushers and bulletins are provided by the Lake View Southern Baptist Church.

The public is invited, the chairman added.

Gabriel Shrine begins new year

Gabriel Shrine 78 honored its past officers and Dorothy Edwards, worthy high priestess, conducted her first meeting of the year, Jerry Pragacz, watchman of shepherds, assisted.

Special guests of honor were Mary Bilbrey and Earl French, past top officials. They were escorted and presented in the East.

Dorothy Edwards presented Mary Bilbrey with a gift from the Shrine and her corps of officers of 1980. French was presented a gift from the Shrine by Jerry Pragacz.

Others escorted and introduced were Supreme Committee Members Alice Woods, instructress, and Cleveland Cox, Oco Woods and Lloyd Lewis, all of Gabriel Shrine, Dorothy Winn of Galle Shrine, and Ralph Triplet of Paul Revere Shrine.

Also honored were Gussie and Delbert McKissick, Hulda Griffith, Betty Gritz, Ida Carriss, Bess Henley, Ann Mueller, David and Virginia Johns, Mary Ellen Lewis, Henry Ashauer and Charles McCollum.

A memorial service for Paul Revere and Ralph Winn of Galle Shrine.

Ways and means projects for the year will be a bakeless bake sale, rummage sale and country store.

A memorial service for Amelia E. Thompson, who passed away April 1, was given. She had been a member of the Shrine since 1944.

Refreshments were served to over 60 in the dining room. The room was decorated with open Bibles, pink roses lying on them; baskets of pink roses; place mats having grayed hands and roses printed on them, and pink napkins.

St. Elizabeth sunrise service

If weather permits, an outdoor Easter sunrise service and mass is planned at 5:30 a.m. Sunday at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, 2201 Ponton Road.

In the event of bad weather, the service will be moved indoors, a parish spokesman said.

The public is invited to join members of St. Elizabeth Parish for the Easter celebration, he advised.

The 11 a.m. mass on Easter Sunday has been cancelled, due to the 5:30 a.m. service.

Mrs. DeMoulin Cameo hosts

The Cameo Society met in the home of the hostess, Mrs. Sandy DeMoulin.

Cindy Hollingshead served as co-hostess for the evening. The opening was given by Linda Yates and Barbara Mihalich, who also gave the program later in the evening.

Business discussed included reports on various aspects of the bazaar break fast which was held April 4.

Also discussed were plans for a video party to be held later in the month at the home of Joyce Tracy.

"Family Feud" was played by those attending, after which a dessert course was served.

The next meeting will be held May 7 in the home of Debbie Farmley.

Others attending were Martha Gianakos, Linda Givens, Jane Juckstad, Debbie Farmley, Judy Reideberger, Joyce Sullivan, Phillis Talley, Joyce Tracy, Ellen Voyles and June Yates.

Life is full of excitement, stimulation, turmoil, happiness and sadness. Each day brings new decisions, crisis, and breakthroughs. During the coming year we'll strive to bring to your attention inspirational words to live by. What makes these phrases so immortal? Surely we've all had similar thoughts at one time or another. But the big difference is that great men, past and present, have taken the time to put into words the thoughts that have crossed all our minds during various moods. Words can be comforting, but of course, in the final analysis it's action that counts most. "As life is action and passion and action of his time, at peril of being judged not to have lived..." Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr.

MERCER, THOMAS AND SEDLACK MORTUARIES is pleased to welcome you as a reader to this column. In the weeks and months ahead we wish to share with you information, facts and thoughts that will create a more in-depth understanding of the services and comfort that our staff is able to bring to the community in its hour of need.

World outreach at GC church

A school of world outreach was held at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road. The Rev. Dennis Rutledge, minister, completed a series of studies on Mexico, Guatemala and Central America.

The guest speaker on Mexico was Dennis Church, a Spanish teacher at South High School.

Dr. Norman Cullumber, district executive secretary for the Disciples Council, was the speaker on Guatemala. He showed slides on that country.

For the program on Central America, Dr. Millett of SIUE was the speaker, discussing current problems and struggles.

An evening meal was served before each program to over 100 people.

Each meal and the decorations pertained to the country being studied that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Moutria

Moutria-Thurman

Miss Maree Thurman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Thurman, 1955 Joy Ave., and Keith Moutria, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moutria, 2208 Terminal Ave., exchanged wedding vows on March 7 at the City Temple Assembly of God Church.

The Rev. A. E. Cope performed the double ring ceremony in a candlelight setting at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Cindy Dahm and the Rev. Chuck Adams sang, "If," "Hawaiian Wedding Song," "Wedding Song," "Longer Than" and The Lord's Prayer.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal length white bouffant gown created of Chantilly lace over taffeta.

The fitted bodice featured a high collar of shiffli fabric embellished with seed pearls, a sheer oval yoke lace ruffle, and long bishop lace sleeves terminating at the wrists with a lace flounce.

Her semi full skirt was enhanced with lace edging on each tier and fell into a chapel train.

She wore a camelot headpiece to secure an elbow length veil of bridal illusion. Honor attendant, Delora Cox and bridesmaids, Robin Thurman, a sister of the bride, and Sheila Moutria, the groom's sister, selected identical peasant designed dresses in mint green Chantilly lace.

Jill Hovey and Chip Ashford served as flower girl and ringbearer, respectively. She was dressed in a mint green frock similar to the adult attendants.

Mrs. Thurman, mother of the bride, was attired in a long apricot chiffon gown designed with a chiffon capelet and pleated skirt.

The groom's mother appeared in a turquoise polyester dress fashioned with long chiffon sleeves.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted at the church by the groom's parents on the evening prior to the wedding and the reception for guests was also held in the fellowship hall.

The newlywed couple is residing in Granite City.

Park trip for house trip

The Granite City Park District is planning a bus trip to the Ninth Annual Central West End Association House Tour on Saturday, April 25. This is the area in St. Louis near the Chase Hotel that has been refurbished in order to restore the old homes and businesses to their original condition.

There are ten homes on display this year—all within walking distance—in the Portland, Westmoreland, Pershing, McPherson neighborhood. The Central West End spokesman said that the homes are necessarily decorated in the style of the exterior of the home, but are done in a fashion that goes with the lifestyle of the family or individual who occupies the home.

They have tried to choose homes of various style and decor.

In addition to the house tour, there will be a flea market on Maryland Plaza during the hours of the tour.

The tour begins at 10 a.m. The bus will leave the Wilson Park Ice Rink parking lot at 9:30 a.m. and return at approximately 4 p.m.

Tickets are $5 each and the bus transportation is $3.75 each making a total of $8.75 per person.

Lunch will be available at the many restaurants, delicatessens or ice cream parlors in the area.

Reservations can be made in person at the Wilson Park Office. Tickets will be on sale until Monday, April 20. Persons may call 877-3599 for additional information.

Calvary Baptist Easter egg hunt

Calvary Baptist Church, 3000 Washington Ave., will host an Easter egg hunt on Saturday, April 18, at 1 p.m. on the Madison County Baptist grounds in Mitchell. A bus will leave the church parking lot at 1 p.m. to transport guests and commuters to the Mitchell location.

The spring project is open to pre-school children through the sixth grade and they must be accompanied by an adult, according to the chairman of the event.

The planning committee announces prizes for the afternoon affair have been donated by Earl's Sporting Goods, Dayspring Christian Bookstore, Mendoza Sporting Goods and the U.S. Army Recruiting Station.

BIG ANTIQUE SHOW IN MACON COUNTY

On April 25 and 26, the Masonic Temple in Decatur will be the site of the 11th annual Yesteryear Antique Show, sponsored by the Macon County Historical Society. Proceeds will support the county museum.

Exhibitors from Wauwatosa, Wis., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Williamsport, Ind., the Chicago area and Central and Southern Illinois will display furniture, jewelry, china, glass, silver, and such collectibles as postcards, books, toleware, tools and tinware.

Mrs. Stuart club hostess

Mrs. James Stuart entertained members of the Bay View Reading Club in her home last week and served a dessert luncheon prior to the meeting.

The president, Mrs. Arthur Buente conducted a business discussion and introduced Miss Lily Dod who presented the program for the day.

Miss Dod spoke on an article entitled, "Living With The Great Orangutan" taken from the National Geographic publication.

The item was written by a woman and her husband who had gone to Boreno to live in that area and study the orangutan.

The next meeting will be held at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ in the church parlors with Mrs. Harold Jansen as hostess.

Others attending were: Mesdames E. H. Arnovitz, Harold Jansen, Walter Klein, A. E. Krumm, Chris Louis, Lawrence McCauley, William Miller, Miss Hazel Towery and Miss Frances Lynch.

Immediately following the service at 12 noon an Easter egg hunt for all the children will be conducted on the church grounds at the rear of the church.

Foster parents sought for Charles — and others

Twelve-year-old Charles, a ward of the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, has been out of his natural home since the end of 1980. A chubby black child of medium height, he hopes to be eventually reunited with his natural family.

Since Charles is an avid music fan and a budding musician, a special service fee could be arranged to enable foster parents to involve Charles in music lessons.

Having had health problems in the past, he is not skilled at sports and does not particularly enjoy outdoor activities. While the department hoped that a two-parent family can be found for Charles, a single parent who is flexible and yet able to set and maintain limits would be considered.

"Due to the shortage of foster parents willing to care for older children, youngsters like Charles are frequently placed in temporary emergency foster homes until a family is located for them," a spokesman said.

"All prospective foster parents are thoroughly oriented and trained."

"After submitting references, undergoing a criminal background check, having several meetings with department social workers and providing medical information, new foster parents are ready to complete training and accept children."

"Foster parents receive a monthly board fee of $212 for children 12 and over and may also receive additional special service fees for children with special problems."

"Area residents interested in caring for Charles or in learning more about the department's foster home program may call Shirley Faber at 876-8985."

300 at Moose enrollment here

Granite City Moose Lodge 272 held enrollment of new members. The enrollment was in honor of William Babel, who is going to Moosehaven to live.

Moosehaven is a retirement home in Orange Park, Fla., for qualified members of the Loyal Order of the Moose. Babel has a lifetime membership in Lodge 272; he has been a member of the lodge here for 28 years.

Of the 10 members enrolled, Earl Tucker was class representative. Others enrolled were David Hill, Bill Miller, Danny Compton, George Guthrie, Oliver Hagy, Richard Hasty, Louis Lacey, Herman Williams and Harold Bellingier.

Lodge 272. The ceremony was done in candlelight. The staff included Jim Tadlock, past governor, Robert Curtis, prelate, Robert Fisher Jr., governor, John Parker, governor, Walter Anders, orator, and Pete Schmidt, sgt-at-arms.

Guest speaker was Doug Dycus, membership chairman of District Ten.

Lodges represented were Quincy, Shelbyville, Pontiac, Carbondale, Murphysboro, Mattoon, Elgin, Sterling, Bloomington, Chicago, Joliet, Wood River and Cahokia.

Lunch was served to 300.

First United Presbyterian to mark 75th year at dinner

Tickets for the First United Presbyterian Church 75th Anniversary Dinner, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue, have all been sold. The tickets went on sale March 29 and were completely sold by April 12.

The church is celebrating the anniversary with a dinner, which will be catered by Ravannelli's, on April 22, a worship service and a tea. The worship service will be dedicated. In 1915 construction of the sanctuary was initiated and finally completed in 1916, 10 years after the origination of the church.

The original 112 member congregation has now grown to approximately 382 members who will be celebrating this event

Amateur artists may enter county contest

The annual Madison County Town and Country Art Show will take place May 15 through May 17 in the upper level of the new Cottonwood Station Mall at Edwardsville.

All amateur artists over the age of 18 years who reside in Madison County are invited to participate.

The show is sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, located at 900 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville.

Complete rules and entry forms may be obtained now by calling the office of the extension adviser at 1-636-8400.

Those interested in entering the show must return the completed forms by 5 p.m. Wednesday, April 22.

Entry forms also may be picked up at the extension office in Edwardsville between the hours of 8 a.m. and 12 noon, and 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Primary purpose of the show is to encourage the amateur artist by providing a place to exhibit original works for public viewing, a spokesman advised.

A university art professor will judge the exhibits.

Persons wishing to help with the show are asked to call the extension service number.

Honor Cathy Weise for child protection

Cathy Weise, a social worker with the Child Protective Services, Department of Children and Family Services, in Granite City, was honored as the child protective services worker from Illinois at the fifth national Conference on Child Abuse and Neglect. CPS workers from each state and U.S. territory were honored at the conference, held in Milwaukee, April 5-8.

Nearly 2,500 attended the conference, sponsored by the Region V Resource Center on Child Abuse and Neglect at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and by the National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect.

INJURED ON NAMEOSKI
Paula J. Sanson, 31, of 1424 rear Madison Ave. was injured during the weekend when her southbound auto left Nameoski Road near Pontoon Road, struck two parked cars on the Bill's Auto Sales lot, and also knocked down an overhead optical stoplight system. ## Gardenaires to refurbish the mini garden center at library

The April meeting of the Gardenaires Garden Club was held at the country home of Mrs. Roy Hornmann in Edwardsville, last week.

After lunch, the president Mrs. Leo Schank, conducted a short business meeting. Reports by committee chairmen included a special report by the Garden Center chairmen: Mrs. William Long and Co-Chairmen Mrs. Hornmann, on the plans to refurbish the display background and sign at the Mini-Garden Center which the club maintains at the Granite City Public Library. They also reported the subject for this month's display featured small fruit trees. Mrs. Alex Tarpoff, the clubs conservation chairman, read a letter from the District Conservation chairman, which emphasized the month of May was "clean streams month."

Plans were made to attend the District V workshop which will be held on May 7 at the Nameoki Recreation Center.

The members also voted to continue their membership and financial support to the Lincoln Memorial Gardens, located at Springfield, Ill. These well known gardens are one of the projects supported by the Illinois Federation of State Garden Clubs.

A work day will be held Thursday, April 30, at the entrance of the Madison County Bicycle and Nature Trail, at which time the shrubs and trees will be trimmed. This is the local clubs contribution to the Chamber of Commerce's annual "Paint-up, clean-up" campaign, which is being held that week.

At the conclusion of the business meeting Mrs. Robert Hintz reported on the annual meeting of the Garden Clubs of Illinois, which was held April 5-7, at the Lincolnshire Hotel, Chicago. She accepted two awards for the local club, a blue rosette for qualifying as a blue ribbon club, and a special certificate of recognition from Care, for the clubs contribution to the World Gardening Program, through "Care."

Mrs. Richard Kerch, program chairman, announced the program theme for the coming year would feature "herbs." Mrs. Kerch presented a paper introducing the topic.

The next meeting will be held on May 14, and will be a field trip which is being planned by Mrs. Tarpoff and Mrs. Kerch.

Others present at the meeting included Mrs. Andrew Gonzalez, Mrs. Charles Kohl, and Mrs. Mary Kristian.

Methodist women to host banquet

The United Methodist Women of Nameoki met last week in the church fellowship hall.

Mrs. Dorothy Ashford opened the meeting with the Emmaus Walk. The members all participated in the response. Mrs. Virginia Carroll gave the "least coin lesson."

President Corine Dawson conducted the business meeting and led in prayer. Plans for the May 11 mother-daughter banquet were discussed. The banquet will be called "Country Time Program", and will feature Mrs. Juanita Herman as Minnie Pearl and a sing-a-long. Ticket are $1.50 for adults and .50 for children. The public is invited.

Plans for a May 18 birthday party at the Colonial Nursing Home were also discussed.

Shower for Mary Britt

A bridal shower was held honoring Miss Mary Beth Britt, who will marry Curtis D. Mase.

The shower was given by his aunts, Mrs. Mary Louise Cann and Mrs. June Cann, and his cousins, Miss Donna Jean Cann, Miss Julie Cann and Mrs. Sandy Radford.

The room was decorated with blue and white wedding bells. Games were played and prizes were given to Mrs. Pat Cann and Mrs. Suzie Cox. A gift was presented to Mrs. Rae Marshall.

The bride-to-be was assisted in opening gifts by Mrs. Dottie Britt and Mrs. Marie Cann. Refreshments were served.

In attendance from Venice were Mrs. Lila Simmons, Mrs. Dottie Britt and the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Elsie Britt.

Those attending from Collinsville were Mrs. Irene Stinchfield and daughter, Cheryl and Mrs. Pat Cann and son.

Attending from Granite City were Mesdames Della Lane, Suzie Cox, Rae Marshall, Mary Louise Cann and daughters, Donna Jean and Judy, June Cann and daughters, Julie and Kelly, Sandy Radford, Marie Cann, Janet Britt, Judy Brazel, Maxine McGee, Marie V. Cann, grandmother of the prospective groom, and Mrs. Joan Mase, his mother.

The honoree is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Britt of Venice. The prospective groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Mase of Granite City. The wedding will take place at Word of Life Tabernacle, where the Rev. Henry Griffen is pastor.

Good, had aspects of the election consolidation here

Something brand new happened here and elsewhere in Illinois on April 7: the various elections were consolidated under a new state law.

How good is the new law? At this stage, we can only give it a mixture of positive and negative comments; ultimately, a few revisions ought to be given serious consideration by the legislature.

The theory behind the law is that people should not be bombarded with numerous regular and special elections. Instead, balloting is now limited to five days each two years. Exceptions can be granted by the courts in emergencies, but these are likely to be rare.

Governmental districts formerly chose supposedly ideal times for bond issue and tax rate submissions to the electorate. The pre-Christmas season of good cheer was an especially busy time for special elections. Now, they must conform to the specific dates outlined in the state law.

If a tax election came close to passing, it could be rescheduled within a short time, utilizing the campaign momentum that already had been created. Now, this is no longer possible, prompting cheers by hard-pressed taxpayers and tears by hard-pressed taxing bodies. There must be a delay of several months, erasing whatever momentum had been built.

An example of the impact of the new law is this month's Roxana school law referendum. Officials feel a narrowly defeated 20-cent rate shift between funds would instead have been approved if the voting had occurred on a different day.

It is, of course, theoretically an improvement if the consolidation achieves a bigger turnout for all ballot issues. But sometimes unrelated matters can create an abnormal voting pattern; the politics in one district can seep into a partly overlapping governmental entity, affecting it in perhaps unintended ways.

As to the mechanics of the consolidation, the election clearly solved one previously existing problem. Instead of having to go to vote on all the topics and individuals affecting him or her, each voter could accomplish the entire task at a single voting place.

To help make this feasible, voters' registration certificates, the pink cards, now describe all the potential voting districts that might be having an election simultaneously; they do not all occur on the same day, but the number could vary depending on which districts have special election propositions.

A typical local voter card lists nine districts—a Nameoki Township precinct, the 23rd Congressional District, the 56th Illinois Legislative District, the Madison County Board district, the Granite City school district, Metro-East Sanitary District, Long Lake District, the Belleville Area College District 522 and the Special Sewer Area. Voter cards generally were not required to be displayed April 7, but the listing might have been quite helpful to voters and poll officials had the cards been utilized.

Again using the Roxana schools as an example, voting was expanded from four to 18 locations. Some precincts there are said to have denied ballots to district residents, while at least one precinct gave ballots to non-district residents.

Some confusion was understandable with such a radical, state-mandated change in election procedures. In general, Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles and her staff performed superbly, in view of the complicated, nearly impossible task placed on their shoulders.

Reporting of unofficial returns was a problem that will need to be resolved. Heavy reliance was placed on poll judges to telephone their tallies to city clerks, township clerks and park district secretaries. But due to busy phone lines, the limits of time, and other factors, it did not work. For instance, only six of the 11 Venice Township precincts were available to governmental authorities on the election night.

It will be recalled that gathering of tentative results was always a tricky task until a state law directly ordered polling place judges to make a separate, unofficial list of their precinct totals and hand it to the county clerk's representative along with the sealed bag containing ballots and other official election documents.

Some kind of return to this procedure, providing a necessary "second line of defense" if initial communication fails, will be imperative if voters are to have access to relatively accurate unofficial results on election night, or even the next morning.

It is difficult to encounter April 7 was that some poll judges used inappropriate methods to determine election totals, and unintentionally obtained wrong answers.

Fortunately, Miss Bowles moved quickly to secure court authorization and to conduct recounts for such precincts as Nameokville, Nameoki Two, Venice Four and Venice Eleven. Unofficial returns had Norman Hall losing the Nameoki Township collector office, but this week he was shown to be the winner.

A big step backward caused by the consolidated election law is the loss of staggered four-year School Board terms, with a minority of each board taking office at one time and having an opportunity to gain familiarity with the responsibilities.

Now, there will be four-year terms, with three board members being chosen in one election and four board members running for four-year terms two years later.

This seems sure to create more chaotic conditions in some school systems. A condition in some school systems—a well meaning but somewhat uninformed—can run as a team, perhaps sweeping a majority of the seven board positions on a single day and then, virtually overnight, reversing education policies developed over a long period of time.

And with school board voting now moved from April to November, and some tax elections also occurring in the fall, tax debates and autumn employee disputes may have a more profound impact on the outcome of board member elections than would otherwise be the case.

Concern and work by neighbors and crews aided tornado victims

To the Editor:

In reference to the tornado Friday night, April 3, we are thankful to all our family, friends and neighbors who came to our rescue.

The men came with sleeves rolled up and tools in hand minutes after the destruction, while the ladies brought food, etc.

Neighbors whose homes weren't damaged, opened their doors to the rest of us and worked side by side, cleaning up and boarding up.

Special thanks go to the actual heroes of our rescue, the firemen who were so thorough, patient and helpful; the police for securing the area so quickly and staying so long with us; Illinois Power and Bell

Telephone, whose men worked feverishly around the clock and went beyond their actual duties for each customer;

The street department members who worked themselves almost to death keeping our streets clear and picking up all the rubble, even though hampered by traffic and people. They willingly kept going and going and are still going.

And the other organizations like the Salvation Army, which supplied food and services for the victims.

Granite City has not had much disaster experience, but you'd have never known it by the way things were handled and the amount of brotherly love shown. We never realized how many friends we had.

MAY REAPPOINTED

Governor James R. Thompson has reappointed as a member of the Bi-State Development Agency Roy A. May, Watbribo, who is semi-retired, for a term ending in January 1982. The non-salaried position does not require Illinois Senate confirmation.

Although my accomplishments in the First Ward were not as I wished, I must say that I gave my best under the very difficult circumstances and circumstances of cooperative administration.

Head Start registration

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission's Head Start annual pre-registration is scheduled for May 4.

The Head Start program will accept applications for Head Start classroom throughout the county. Head Start is a pre-kindergarten preparatory program, which is now being operated on a full school year basis. Head Start is especially designed to help low-income families with children with any handicaps and special needs.

Age preferential, as stated on the pre-registration criteria, refers to children living in Bethalto, Collinsville, Alton and Edwardsville, who are four (4) years old, or will be 4 before December 1, 1981. Those children living in Granite City, Madison and Venice who are four or will be four before December 31, 1981, will be eligible.

Persons interested in giving children a head start for kindergarten may contact: Granite City - Jo. Mrs. Martha Rochester is taking early retirement this year.

Remember the poor,

To the Editor:

I thank all my friends, neighbors and believers for their support in the last election campaign.

We ran a close race and lost by only 80 votes. The voters have spoken, and I feel everyone should try hard to work together in these times when unemployment and underemployment have created considerable tension and despair.

The confidence expressed by many people in my ability to represent them is very much appreciated.

I will not give up my role as a public servant but rather, through my law practice, work more directly for social improvements of even greater impact.

Although my accomplishments in the First Ward were not as I wished, I must say that I gave my best under the very difficult circumstances and circumstances of cooperative administration.

It was pointed out Tuesday night that when the board reorganized in April 1980, its officers were elected to Stevens explained. Markarian finished third in the aldermanic race in that ward. Alderman Paul Ray Bowler won with 1,377 votes and Michael Wertheis garnered 1,025, according to the canvassed results.

In the two races for Granite City Township posts, the totals for all four candidates changed but the outcome did not. The incumbents won both positions.

Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer was re-elected over Tom Nesbitt with 7,536 to 5,928. The election night tally showed him winning 7,518 to 4,027.

night totals, but not the winners

While modern computers are supposed to make life easier and get work done faster, the conversion of voting in Granite City to punch card with computerized tabulations has somewhat reversed that, at least until the "bugs are worked out."

The city and township's canvass board, comprised of the mayor, city clerk and city attorney, found numerous errors this week while checking the tabulations from the April 7 city and township election.

Of the 30 candidates who sought office, the election night tallies of 18 were in error. However, the canvass board found no errors which would reverse the outcome of any of the races.

Election night, it appeared that Mayor Paul Schuler defeated Daniel Partney for mayor by 1,238 votes, 5,903 to 4,667, but the canvass board found no errors which would reverse the outcome of any of the races.

The tallies also were changed by the canvass board for both candidates in the Third Ward. Instead of the 1,175 votes credited to Carl Kittel election night, the canvass board found only 991 votes.

While his opponent for alderman, Nelson Dunlap gained 10 votes, from 281 election night to 291.

Only one total changed among the three candidate tallies in the Fourth Ward. Incumbent alderman Glen Sprankle actually received 588 votes, instead of the 587 previously posted, but lost to Sharon Perjak, who had 750.

Resignation of Curtis R. McDaniel effective July 1 was accepted Tuesday night by the Granite City Board of Education, which will seek a new director of business affairs from within the present school district staff.

Supr. B. J. Davis said he hopes to be re-elected as successor to McDaniel at a May 4 meeting of the board.

Whoever is hired will begin the duties in June to provide a familiarization period.

Current challenges facing the business affairs office involve a larger portion of the 1981-82 budget, development of the '80-81 expenditure report, and further competition for school records and processes.

McDaniel is accepting other employment. He was hired in the spring of 1980 to replace Tully Huebner, who left to accept a similar position at a community college.

Also on May 4, School Board President Stephen Sallich will resign from the board in order to become a city alderman, a post he won in the April 7 election.

In addition to choosing a new president, the board will have authority to appoint a new board member.

Sallich's board term ends in November 1983. The unexpired two-year portion of the term will be filled in the November 1981 election under the Illinois election consolidation law.

It was noted that Calvin L. Barlow, Prather Junior High School principal, will be on leave for the remainder of the spring semester. He was hired in April 7 and entered St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Belleville, where he is recuperating.

The board accepted of Evelyn L. Fuller, a Granite City High School South cafeteria employee.

A secretary to the superintendent and board will be employed on May 4. Mrs. Martha Rochester is taking early retirement this year.

State intern program open

Applications for the newly established Illinois secretary of state internship program are available through Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The program is open to Illinois college students in all disciplines who are in good standing and have a least 90 semester hours or 90 quarter hours from an accredited college or university.

The duration of the program will be from June 15 to Aug. 15 with a stipend of $700 per month.

Internships are available in various occupational fields including accounting, data processing, physical services, communications and law enforcement.

Selection of interns will be based on merit, and the decisions will be made prior to the last Saturday, April 11, by David Van Horn, director of University Placement Services, 692-2800.

Services for George Hatchard

Funeral services for George Bernard Hatchard, 85, of Sallito, Miss., a former Venice resident, were held Saturday, April 11, in Baldwin, Miss.

Mr. Hatchard died at 6:15 a.m. Thursday, April 9, 1981, in the North Mississippi Medical Center at Tupelo, Miss., after an illness of one month.

Born in St. Louis, Mr. Hatchard had moved to Venice as a young man. He had resided in the local community until moving to Sallito about seven years ago.

He was a retired brick-mason and had been employed at Granite City Steel some years ago.

Among the survivors are his wife, Mrs. Rita (Daniels) Hatchard; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Kay Sandlin of Sallito, Mrs. Shirley Hile of Sallito and Mrs. Joyce McArthur of Mesa, Ariz.

Two sons, George Hatchard of Sallito and James Hatchard of El Cajon, Calif., two brothers, Lester Hatchard of Clearwater, Fla., and Roy Hatchard of St. Louis; 13 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren and several family members residing in the Quad-Cities.

Burial was in the Sallito cemetery.

BATTERIES FOUND

Two 15-year-old boys found walking in an alley in the 1600 block of Fifth Street, Madison, carrying a galvanized tub with two car batteries inside.

The boys were taken into custody at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. Later, they were released pending further investigation, but the batteries were confiscated.

O'Fallon rules Yocum Relays

WOODRIVER—It was all O'Fallon here yesterday in the running of the sixth annual Yocum Relays at Wood River High. The Panthers racked up 134 points to run away with their fourth straight Relays championship. Mascoutah was a distant second with 82 points, followed by Carlinville with 73 points, Trenton Weslin 65, Jerseyville 45, Madison 45, Wood River 28, Roxana 21, Highland 12 and Bethalto Civic Memorial 3. Waterloo did not score.

O'Fallon had winners in nine events and added one second place, and a third. Madison, with depth problems, still managed to win two events and finished with a third place and a fifth. Madison's varsity 440 yard relay team won its event in a time of 47.5 seconds. Squad members were Charles Fuller, Shawn Brown, Darnell Dixon and Rich Borney. The Trojans' freshman-sophomore 880 yard relay also placed first. Elmer Collins, Santos Howard, George Leonard and Fuller finished in 3:48.2. The Madison varsity 880 yard relay team of Tyrone Manzy, Bernard Harper, Collins and Borney finished third in 1:39.9. O'Fallon was the winner in 1:36.0, followed by Mascoutah in 1:37.2. Madison's threesome of Harper, Walter Davis and John Latham placed fourth in the shot put with a combined total of 120 feet, 9 inches. Jerseyville was first at 123.7, Carlinville second at 122.0 and O'Fallon third at 120.104.

The Trojan triple jump squad of Collins, Dixon and Michael Young came fifth at 109.5. Mascoutah was first at 120.4, followed by O'Fallon 118.5, Carlinville 115.9 and Weslin 110.7. The story of the meet was all-O'Fallon. The Panthers won the two mile relay, the 440 yard freshman sophomore relay, low hurdle shuttle, varsity 880 yard relay, distance medley, high hurdle shuttle, pole vault and long jump relay. "This is the kind of meet you need to have good depth in," said Madison head track coach Charles Steptoe. "It's a power meet."

O'Fallon won the team championship with 100% points, followed by Carlinville 56, Madison 42, Wood River 36, Freeburg 32, Waterloo 30, Weslin 18, Breese Mater Dei 18, Lebanon 12, Red Bud 9. Madison's mile relay squad of Elmer Collins, George Leonard, Santos Howard and Charles Fuller won their event in a time of 3:44.6. It was the only first place finish for Madison in the meet.

Shawn Brown was second in the 100 yard dash in 10.6. Teammate Fuller was third in 10.65.

The Trojans' 440 yard relay team of Howard, Collins, Brown and Fuller finished second in 47.8. The Madison 880 relay team finished second also, but was disqualified for a bad baton exchange.

Redbirds edge North, 3-1

GRANITE CITY—It was just one of those days. There wasn't really much the Granite City North baseball team could do but hope Scott Bergesch would let up.

After seven innings though, Bergesch, Alton's starting pitcher, was still throwing heat for the Redbirds. A strong effort helped Alton post a 3-1 non-conference victory over the Steelers here Tuesday.

"He's (Bergesch) a big, strong kid," said Redbird head coach Wayne Tyler.

"When he started off the season, I thought he was going to have control problems. But he only walked two men in his last game and one today. I knew he could pitch like this. He's our number three pitcher."

Tyler prides his Redbirds' 6-3 record on his pitching

South is rained out

PARK FOREST, Ill.—Granite City South's baseball game here yesterday with Rich East High School was rained out and will not be rescheduled.

South is on a northern swing through the Chicago area this weekend and is scheduled to face Niles West today in a doubleheader. Tomorrow, South is scheduled to face Morton High School in a single game.

South's extended road trip comes on the heels of a doubleheader loss to Gateway East Conference rival Edwardsville Monday night (see related story).

didn't. With runners on second and third and one out in the first, they failed to score. They had a man on second in the third with two outs and didn't touch home. And a man on third in the fourth didn't make the last 90 feet. However, when the Steelers did connect, it was finely tuned.

Russ Harrell notched the second base hit for North. It was a one out single in the fifth. After striking out twice, Jeff Puryear stroked a single. Alton added to its troubles by sending Harrell to third on a passed ball.

Just as a coach would have designed it, Darren Dewey, with two outs, laced his second hit of the game in the gap between third and short. The Steelers looked on the move, up 1-0, and wanting move, Bergesch put an abrupt halt to it, though, retiring Dan Patterson and the next six batters he faced.

Eads gave up two walks and recorded a strike out before he left the game in favor of Paul Barrington. However, Stegmeyer's usual control pitcher just couldn't find the plate and dished up two more walks, a wild pitch and a base hit before ending the inning.

At least the loss was only a non-conference game as North's record dipped to 7-3-1. But the Steelers' Gateway East leading 3-0 mark will be put to the test when they battle Belleville Althoff on the road today.

South girls still unbeaten

By PETER HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — Ho hum. Another game, another victory.

For the Granite City South girls softball team, Monday's 15-5 rout of Gateway East Conference rival Edwardsville was just the latest in a series of outstanding performances. South used an seven-run fourth inning to boost it to the win.

Behind the clutch pitching of Karen Spencer, the Lady Warriors ran their record to 4-0 with the victory. Spencer pitched her way out of three bases loaded jams in the game. In the second inning, the Tigers loaded the bases with none out, but two deep fly ball helped get her off the hook. In the third, she got a big strikeout with the bases full to help preserve a 4-1 Warrior lead. Spencer walked the bases full again in the fifth inning, but Edwardsville was only able to score two runs.

"Karen was having control problems today," said South head coach Pat Yates. "She wasn't her usual self."

"She's been having difficulty following through," said Yates. "Because of that she's had a sore shoulder. But because we use her so much, it hasn't had time to get better."

Luckily for South and Spencer, Edwardsville pitcher Michelle Johnson had her own problems against the Warriors. She and Spencer each walked 10 batters. But South was able to make better use of its base runners in six innings.

"I can't be all that disappointed in our hitting," said Steeler head coach Bob Stegmeyer. "We were making contact." Sure, North was nailing the ball, but usually right at somebody.

Besides the final outburst of hitting by the Steelers in the fifth, they had three other chances to score and South was able to score 15 runs in six innings.

The victory for South puts it all alone in first place in the GEC race. The Warriors also have conference victories over Cahokia, Belleville Althoff and a non-conference win over O'Fallon.

Steelers edge Cahokia twice

CAHOKIA — The Granite City North track team edged Cahokia here yesterday — twice. Both the Steelers boys and girls teams won dual Gateway East Conference meets.

After 12 running events in Granite City North's dual track meet with Cahokia, the boys team was clinging to an eight point lead.

The North field event athletes outscored the Comanches by 10 points and gave the Steelers a 78-67 victory. The ladies' margin was a little wider. The girls won their meet, 69-57.

Other than the winning edge being provided by the field events, North had another big advantage over Cahokia. "I figured the meet up," said Steeler head coach Harry Lang. "I knew we had a depth problem. But I also knew that Cahokia had a bigger one."

That was evident when on the boys side, North took just eight out of 18 first places, but nailed 13 out of 18 seconds and eight of 14 thirds. The girls' figures were near the same. The Steelers placed first seven of 16 times. They grabbed 11 of 16 second places and seven out of 10 thirds.

Steele Meyer got the competition off on the right foot, by winning the two mile run. He clocked in at 10:54. Teammate Jim Robertson followed in second at 10:56. Kristy Lauderdale finished in second for the girls at 13:13. Yvonne Dagon was third at 16:32.

Despite hitting every hurdle along the way, Tim Rozoycki also had a second for North in the 120 yard high hurdles. He finished at 15.6 seconds. Steeler Dave Long was third at 16.7. Dianna Epps won the 110 yard hurdles in 18.1 seconds. Barb Harvey was second at 19.0. One of North's big problems with the boys is its leg speed. This showed as junior Doug Sheppard ran 11.1 seconds in the 100 yard dash for third. "Our overall leg speed is not good right now," said Lang. "Either it's not there or we can't get it out. As a freshman, Sheppard ran the 100 in 10.6."

Mary Votupol also got a third for the girls at 12.6. Jon Bunch placed first in the 880 yard run. His time was 2:10.4. Bob Portell was third at 2:17. On the girls side, Kelli Haney was also first at 2:46. Carla Nemejyer followed in second at 3:09. North placed two-thirds in the 440 yard dash in both the boys and the girls. Mark McWhorter was second at 54.8. Joel Hubert took third at 57.9. Terri Gieselman was second for the girls. Her time was 1:12.1. Cindy Voyles pulled in third at 1:12.4. Rozoycki grabbed another second in the hurdles. He was clocked at 42.5 in the 330 yard low hurdles for a second. Teammate Wayne Peterson followed in third at 44.9. A second first place was won by Epps. In the girls 220 yard hurdles, she won in 33 seconds. Harvey was second to her again at 36.7.

In a bang-bang finish, Bill Schaefer won the mile in 4:59.9. Brother Kerry was third at 5:01.5. Toni McCann pulled in second for the girls. She was a good distance, at 6:06, from second place Steeler Lisa Harrell, at 7:00.

Bunch was reduced to a second in the 220 yard dash at 23.6. Doug Sheppard took another third at 24.5. "Not bad for a half-mile (Bunch)," said Lang. Votupol made up for a third place in the 100, by winning the 220.

Softball meeting set

GRANITE CITY — Because of the strong interest in the last softball umpires' meeting, another such meeting has been scheduled for 7 p.m. at the Nameki Recreation Center on April 21. All softball managers, softball umpires, and individuals interested in umpiring softball are required to attend.

The meeting, conducted by Ray Hoffman, Softball Umpire Supervisor, will cover all rule changes, interpretations, and clarifications. The material covered in this meeting will prove valuable to those first-year teams as well as those teams who have participated for years. While this meeting is not mentioned on the softball managers' important dates sheet, it is required that he or she be in attendance or have a player representative at the meeting.

BMX season underway

COLLINSVILLE — The 1981 Bicycle Motocross (BMX) season got underway here Sunday and several Granite Cityans did well in racing.

Leading the way was 11-year old Jeff Swiatek, who took first place honors in the Expert Division. Tony Peterson, 15, was ninth, Jarvis Johnson, 16, was third, and Kevin Hutchins, 16 was sixth.

In the "Big Wheels" Division, Kevin Champion

should contact Ron Trimmer (931-3075). Team and individual pictures will be taken on Saturday, May 2 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday, May 3 from 12 p.m. to 5 p.m. Details and forms will be available and distributed this week.

Girls soccer pictures

GRANITE CITY — Any manager in the Madison County Girls' Soccer Association who needs game cards should contact Dick Buenger (797-0311) or Nancy Marti (931-5544). Girls interested in getting on a team should contact Ron Trimmer (931-3075). Team and individual pictures will be taken on Saturday, May 2 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday, May 3 from 12 p.m. to 5 p.m. Details and forms will be available and distributed this week.

Illini sign prep star

CHAMPAIGN — The University of Illinois basketball team has announced the signing of its third forward to a National Letter of Intent. Jay Daniels, a Florida all-star, will join Chicago's George Montgomery and Grand Rapids' (Mich.) Anthony Welch at Illinois next fall.

Daniels averaged 24.1 points, 15 rebounds and 5.4 assists a game at John I. Leonard High School in Lake Worth, Fla. Daniels lives in West Palm Beach, Fla., just four blocks from current Illini Derek Harper. The 6-7, 200-pounder was the Player of the Year in the West Palm Beach area, shooting 52 percent from the field and 78 percent from the free throw line. Earlier this week Montgomery, a 6-8 power forward from Corliss High School, and Welch, a 6-8 forward from Creston High, indicated their intentions of attending UI.

Salukis visit SIU-E

CARBONDALE — The Southern Illinois University-Carbondale men's tennis team will try to even its record at 11-11 this week when it travels to Edwardsville to take on Division II powerhouse SIU-Edwardsville, today (April 16) then returns to Carbondale to face Missouri Valley Conference foe Wichita State and Illinois State, Saturday and Sunday (April 18-19).

The Salukis are coming off a successful week against Murray State, Memphis State and Indiana University. SIUC took the final two meets after losing to Murray State, 5-4, Friday (April 10). SIUC beat Memphis State, 8-1, and Indiana, 7-2, Saturday.

The Salukis raised their record to 8-11 and appeared to have rebounded after a poor spring trip.

'Cougar Boosters' formed

EDWARDSVILLE — Members of the 1981 baseball team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville have formed the Cougar Baseball Boosters Club and have gone to work enlisting the support of fans and business firms in southwestern Illinois, who have been asked to contribute prizes for drawings at the 10 remaining home games, scheduled on eight dates.

Roger Thomas, a member of the baseball team, is president of the Cougar Baseball Boosters. Helping him with the club are student Jim Watson and members of the team.

The first promotion in the planned series took place Sunday and was dubbed Parents Day. The Cougar baseball players responded by sweeping a doubleheader, from Kentucky Wesleyan. Numerous prizes were given, and fans enjoyed a barbecue during the games. Probably the most important date remaining on the schedule is the double header on May 5, the final day of the regular schedule, with the Cougars' "Big Brothers" from SIU-Carbondale-Couch Richard (Toby) Jones and his Salukis.

From now on, starting Wednesday, April 22, when Missouri Baptist College of St. Louis will be at Cougar Field for a twinnish starting at 1:30 p.m., drawings will be made for six gate prizes. Other home games include:

Sunday, April 26, Alumni Day, featuring a single game with William Jewell College. All SIUE alumni will be admitted free.

Wednesday, April 29, McKendree College, 3 p.m., single game.

Thursday, April 30, Faculty Staff Day, doubleheader with the Hawks of Quincy College. All SIUE faculty and staff members will be admitted free.

Steeler thinclads drop decision to West Maroons

BELLEVILLE — The Granite City North varsity boys track team dropped a close decision to Belleville West here Monday afternoon in dual meet action.

West finished the meet with 77 points, while North had 68.

The big winners for North in the meet were distance runner Bruce DeTuntz and hurdler Tim Rozyski. Each won two events. DeTuntz won the 1600 meter (mile) run in a time of 4:48.6 and the 3200 meter run (two mile) in a time of 10:15.06.

Rozyski won the 110 meter high hurdles in 15.7 seconds and the 330 meter low hurdles in 41.7.

North's Mike Robinson was the winner of the pole vault competition. His first place jump was good for 12 feet, 6 inches.

Jon Bunch of North won the 400 meter dash in 52.09 seconds. Mark McWhorter of the Steelers was the winner of the 800 meter run.

The Steelers' 3200 meter relay team won its event in a time of 8:42.5. Michael Long won the shot put with a distance of 45 feet, 100 inches. David Kensing of North was the first place finisher in the discus throw with a distance of 134 feet, 2 inches.

Belleville West winners were: Bolt in the 10 meter dash in a time of 11.06 seconds; Snare in the 200 (23.06) and the long jump (18-10 1/2); its 400 meter relay team (45.9); its 800 meter relay team (1:36.1); its 1600 meter relay team (3:41.5); and Gass in the high jump (5-10) and triple jump (40-5 1/2).

In the junior varsity meet held concurrently, Belleville West took a 107-24 victory. West also won the freshman meet, 102 1/2-34 1/2.

By TOM SCHOCKER

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — A fine

pitching effort was understandable. John Modica, the Granite City South head baseball coach, couldn't put up much of an argument

when the Warriors lost a 2-1

Gateway East Conference game, the first of doubleheader, to Edwardsville on a three hitter by the Tigers' starting pitcher here

Monday.

But Modica had a lousy feeling in his stomach as he watched his team squander a four-run lead and drop the second game to Edwardsville 8-6 in extra innings.

Now, 2-1 in the Gateway

East, the Warriors did not under 500 at 7-8-1.

"I really had a bad feeling about this (second) game," said Modica. "It may not be nice to say, but I knew we were going to lose. We quit a long time before Edwardsville made their comeback."

The way the Warriors started the game, it seemed they wanted a get back at the

breaking loss in the opener.

South had six hits in the second and third innings and came away with six runs.

Larry Holder and Dan

Harris provided the RBI's in the second. After a walk and being balked to second, John Linhart was thrown out at third on a bunt attempt by

Scott Greathouse. He was sent to second when Pat

Linhart drilled a single.

Holder then delivered the RBI with a single and Harris drove in two more on another base hit. It all happened with two outs.

The third inning. Deja vu.

When the first two batters

Warriors, Edwardsville

opened the doors again when Rick Daily reached base on a throwing error. Troy

McClure and John Linhart

followed with base hits and Greathouse drew a walk.

At this point, Tiger hurler

of reliever Bill Kaman. But he only helped South's cause by walking two batters, one that scored a run, and gave the Warriors another run on a wild pitch. So, facing just two batters, Kaman was gone. Third choice worked

coach Tom Pile.

Edwardsville's third pitcher, Scott Klauster-meier, retired the final out of the inning and to make matters worse, allowed just two base runners in the five innings he worked. He also struck out seven batters including the side in the eight to preserve the win. After three innings, South had six hits. It finished with seven.

"We have had trouble with our relief pitching," said

Pile. "Klaustermeier was hit hard against Chicago Marist and he was down. But, it was a hell of a comeback."

The Tigers didn't make their move until the sixth inning. It was a 6-2 Warrior lead and Modica sat back and watched Edwardsville steal six bases in the inning.

While scoring three times on just one hit.

South had the game

wrapped up in the final frame with two outs and man on second. However, a throwing error gave the Tigers another life as they scored the tying run. It was only a matter of time, now.

Two more stolen bases, a set up the eventual winning run for Edwardsville. In fact, on a squeeze attempt, the Tiger runner on third was in high gear coming home when the sixth

Warriors pitcher of the night

tossed a wild pitch.

"Here's Edwardsville struggling and I thought to win both games," said

Modica. "I wanted to win, but I don't know about them.

The three days off didn't help, I don't think we are motivated enough. With that type of attitude, I don't see how we are going to compete in Chicago."

The opening contest was a fine pitching dual, but won by Tiger Reed Hellmann.

The speedy lefty struck out seven men and was saved a number times by excellent defensive play from his mates.

South took the early lead

when Mark Clark reached on an error. Dave Modeste singled and on double steal attempts, Clark scored on throwing error by the Tiger

SIU-E splits

PEORIA — SIU-Edwardsville's baseball Cougars came up with a three-run third inning here Tuesday and went on to win the second game of a doubleheader with Bradley University 4-1. The Cougars lost the first game 2-1.

SIU-E's Ted Smith fired a three-hitter at the Braves in the first game, but it wasn't enough. Bradley's Mark Hammond also had a three-hitter. Bradley scored the winning run in the fourth inning on a sacrifice fly.

In Good Spirits!

by GEORGE CREWS

Carefully mix together exact proportions of juniper berry, coriander seed, lemon root, licorice, and cinnamon and you've got — gin. First developed in the 17th century as a medicinal beverage (owing to the presence of the juniper berry), gin became the favorite drink of British soldiers who popularized it throughout the world. Since gin is so delicately flavored, and the product of such a complex recipe, the slightest variation or trace of foreign flavor is cause to throw out the whole batch. Although the United States and England are the major producers of gin, imported gin from England is one of the fastest growing of all distilled spirits in the U.S. The difference? English gin is distilled with less corn, more barley malt and at lower proof, producing a smoother, more delicate spirit than its U.S. counterpart.

Big Red schedule

ST. LOUIS — For the third year in a row the St. Louis Football Cardinals will open their regular season at home, this year against top AFC contender, Miami, according to the schedule released by the National Football League office today.

The Cardinals open the 1981 season at Busch Stadium against Coach Don Shula and the Dolphins, Sunday, September 6 in a noon kickoff. In fact, all Cardinal home games this season will start at 12 noon.

The Big Red could find out early where they stand in 1981, based on the club's first five games. Following Miami, two games against the Dallas Cowboys, a trip to Tampa Bay and a battle with arch-rival Washington compose the first five weeks of the Cardinal schedule.

All 16 games on the Cardinals' schedule are slated for Sunday afternoons, with the final contest to be played in Philadelphia, December 20.

The Cardinals will travel to Dallas for the second game and then host the Cowboys three weeks later, October 4 at Busch Stadium. In between those games is the home match-up with the Redskins the third week of the season and the visit to Tampa Bay the fourth week. The remainder of the home schedule includes the Minnesota Vikings, October 25; the Philadelphia Eagles, November 8; the Buffalo Bills, November 15; the New Orleans Saints, December 6, and the New York Giants, December 13.

The other road games for the Big Red will be at the New York Giants, October 11; the Atlanta Falcons, October 18; the Washington Redskins, November 1; the Baltimore Colts, November 22; the New England Patriots, November 29 and the finale in Philadelphia, December 20.

New leagues forming at SFF

GRANITE CITY — New leagues are being formed at Soccer for Fun, the new indoor soccer facility in Pontoon Beach.

An April 20 deadline has been set for applications of teams wishing to participate.

The new leagues having team openings are: Senior men's A league (17 & over) on Tuesday nights; Senior men's B league (17 & over) on Friday nights; Senior women's league (17 & over) on Monday nights; Men's over-30 league on Thursday nights; Women's over-30 league on Thursday nights (over 30 teams can have two players under 30 on roster).

All teams are limited to 18 players on roster and 18 are allowed to dress for games. Soccer for Fun is open from noon until 1 a.m. Monday through Friday and from 8 a.m. to 1 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Practice time is available, but is scheduled around league play.

Practice time charges are $50 per-hour for league teams and $25 per-hour for league teams.

League teams pay a $250 fee per team for an 8-week season.

Hennrich becoming ISU leader

NORMAL, Ill. — Illinois State University's young baseball squad is looking for some big things out of junior shortstop Tom Hennrich this season.

The Granite City (South) product has become one of the leaders for Coach Duffy Bass' Redbirds and is the mainstay of a strong infield. Hennrich has been starting for ISU since his freshman year and his statistics just keep getting better.

Last season, Hennrich hit a .355 clip while leading the team in hits with 55. His defense was also quite respectable as he made only 15 errors in 172 chances.

But Hennrich hopes to better last year's performance and become a better all-around ballplayer. "Realistically, I'd like to hit .380 with more RBI's (runs batted in)," said Hennrich. "I'd also like to strike out less and play better defense."

Hennrich has gotten off to a good start on those goals this spring, hitting .379 while ISU has gone 9-1 in the early going. He is second on the club with nine RBI's and has struck out just once in 29 plate appearances. Including ISU's 11-1 fall campaign, Hennrich has fanned just once in 62 at bats.

Hennrich admits that his goals will be difficult to reach and will require a lot of time and effort. But Hennrich is not one to shy away from hard work.

"Tommy is a real competitor," said Bass. "He executes everything so well and he works so hard that I never have to say a word to him about a lack of effort."

"In fact, I sometimes have to talk to Tommy just to let him know I'm not ignoring him," joked Bass.

Bass also feels that one of the most impressive things about Hennrich is his team spirit.

"Between Tommy, Ricky Powell, and Mike Bock, our infield always has a constant round of chatter going on," said Bass.

Bass also said that he expects Hennrich to be a team leader on the field this year and to settle down some of the young pitchers.

Public Notices 33

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION
TO: FRANK HOLLENBACH, FATHER OF TONI HOLLERBACH, A MINOR 81-J-170 and to All Whom It May Concern:
Take notice that on the 9th day of April, 1981 a petition was filed under the Juvenile Court Act, by Assistant State's Attorney Duane Bailey in the Circuit Court of Madison County entitled "In the interest of TONI HOLLERBACH, a minor", and that in circuit courtroom at Edwardsville on the 30th day of April, 1981 at the hour of 1:30 p.m., or as soon thereafter as this cause may be heard, an adjudicatory hearing will be held upon the petition to have the child declared to be a ward of the court under that act. The court has authority in this proceeding to take from you the custody and guardianship of the minor, and to appoint a guardian with power to consent to adoption of the minor.

Now, unless you appear at the hearing and show cause against the petition, the petition may be taken for confessed as against you and each of you, and an order, judgment or decree entered.
WILLARD V. PORTELL, Clerk

SPRING TRAINING FOR ENERGY SAVERS

Shape up caulking and weatherstripping around doors and windows. You'll probably find old caulking that's dried up or cracked. Replace it with today's improved, longer-lasting sealants. Modern caulking tools make this an easy do-it-yourself project.

Short-stop those sneaky drafts that bothered you last winter. For instance, seal around outdoor water faucets. Electric outlets on exterior walls also can be a prime source of drafts. Now they can be sealed with insulation products specially designed for the purpose.

Trim down cooling and heating costs this year round with layers of attic insulation that meet the standards of our climate. This is the most comfortable time of the year to install new insulation in the attic.

Despite the high national ranking of the City of St. Louis in the frequency of serious crimes, the bi-state St. Louis metropolitan area has a lower crime rate than 25 of the other 34 largest urban regions.

The Regional Commerce and Growth Association said Tuesday that statistics for 1979 show the St. Louis region, which includes four Illinois and four Missouri counties as well as the central city, had a rate of 599.2 serious crimes per 100,000 population.

The same year, Miami had 928.3 major crimes per 100,000 persons.

Federal agent tours GC, Pontoon for disaster report

By PAT FOLEY
of the Press-Record

A report on the tornado damage in Madison County has been completed and forwarded to the Springfield, Ill., offices of the Federal Small Business Administration (SBA).
In addition to the report being declared a disaster area by Mayor Paul Schuler and Governor James Thompson declaring Madison County a disaster area, the federal government must also make the proclamation before loans and other assistance can be made available to homeowners, businesses and others affected by the tornado which ripped through Granite City, Pontoon Beach and Edwardsville on Friday, April 3.
Estimates have placed the damages at $6.8 million countywide with additional claims still being processed. Norman Davis, an appraiser for the SBA, made a survey of the tornado damage in the county Thursday afternoon. Accompanying him during a walk-through of the Glenview Subdivision, hardest hit area in Granite City, were: William Elsie, region eight coordinator of the Illinois Emergency Services and Disaster Agency (ESDA); Edward Harris, Madison County coordinator of the ESDA; Victor Koenig, Granite City ESDA coordinator, and City Engineer Monroe Brewer.

Davis talked with several of the homeowners who were at the sites of their damaged, or completely destroyed homes. He was particularly interested in any information that had been received by the homeowners from their insurance companies.
He explained his task and some of the possible financial help that might be made available to them if the county is declared a disaster area by the federal government.
Davis explained the SBA is the only federal agency that makes direct loans of any kind for the replacement of homes and businesses damaged or destroyed in a disaster such as a tornado.
He stressed that he was not making any estimates of damage in the county, but merely an on-site survey of the damage and the subsequent report from which a determination can be made by federal officials as to whether or not the county will be declared a disaster area.
Davis also said that homeowners should beware of contractors going through the damaged area trying to obtain remodeling or rebuilding contracts. He said no one should give any money to anyone for work in advance, nor should any contracts or similar papers be signed without obtaining several estimates from known, reputable contractors.

Some of the home sites visited by the officials Thursday afternoon included one completely destroyed by the tornado and two homes partially damaged, but that will probably have to be rebuilt from the ground up.
The split-level residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Earney, 2407 Cardinal Ave., which had a side wall completely ripped from the house and other extensive damage throughout was one of those visited by the officials.
The Earneys and their three children are now living in a camping trailer in their back yard until they can find other suitable temporary housing or until it is determined that the home is safe for habitation.
Earney had little hope that the house would be safe enough for his family to live in since a friend, who is a building contractor, inspected the structure and found that part of the back wall of the home had been knocked from its foundation and is presently resting on the back porch supports. Walls on the opposite end of the house also have developed cracks and have separated because of the shifting.

Davis and the other officials talked also to Joseph Enrichel, 2808 National Ave., who was determined to build a new home at the same address as soon as he can.
He, his wife and their five children were in the house when the tornado ripped it apart. Exposed parts of his glass blown from windows. Their five-month-old baby slept through the whole incident unharmed.
A side wall of the home was held up by his tractor-trailer rig parked along side, but it received only about $200 damage. One of his sons was asleep in the bedroom at that end of the house, but he was unharmed.
Enrichel said that he would be grateful for any additional financial assistance that the SBA or any agency could give him so he can rebuild his home.
The completely destroyed home of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Havron, 2241 Delta Ave., also was one of those visited. Havron and his wife Mary were at home Friday night when the twist literally blew their house away, most of it ending up in their neighbors' yards.

The couple had their baby granddaughter with them at the time, but all three escaped without any serious injuries. All that was left standing was the bathroom and adjacent kitchen cabinets which probably saved their lives.
Mrs. Havron is employed at the Madison County ESDA office in Edwardsville and had attended a work-related tornado seminar. It was noted in films during the seminar that the bathroom is usually the only thing left standing after a tornado rips apart a home.
She remembered this bit of information and ended up there with her husband, who at the time was taking a shower, and their grandchildren.
He remembered being briefly pinned between two objects, one a falling wall, and said that he might have been knocked unconscious for a short time. He said that suddenly he could hear his wife calling his name and used his shoulder to move the wall to free himself. He then realized that his wife's foot was caught between something and again used his shoulder to move part of a wall to allow her to free her foot. Their grandchildren was not injured.

Havron also said that he would like to rebuild at the same location.
Davis pointed out that the declaration can be made by President Reagan or by the SBA. If it is made by the President, special grants and other types of aid would probably be made available for those affected by the tornado. If the declaration is made by the SBA, low-interest loans would be made by the agency directly to the home and business owners.
These loans would generally be for the difference of what the insurance companies will cover and the actual replacement values of the structures to be rebuilt.
Davis said that at this time, loans for the rebuilding of homes have an interest rate of three percent while the interest rate for the replacement of businesses has been fluctuating between three and 14 percent. He pointed out that these rates can change at any time and gave these figures as an example of the rates that could be in effect if the loans are actually made.
The loans would be for replacement costs to pre-torn conditions, but would not cover belongings such as antiques and other non-replaceable items.

CD tornado aid available

Nelson Hagnauer, Madison County Board chairman, on Friday announced that $200,000 in loans and grants will be made available to eligible residents affected by the tornado on Friday, April 3.
The money is made available through the county's Community Development program to eligible applicants in both the Edwardsville and Granite City-Pontoon Beach areas. Both have been declared disaster areas by the governor.
In addition to this program, the county is also seeking small business administration loans and tax relief measures, and has waived fees for building permits, except electrical permits, for residences in uninhabited areas of the county that were affected.

Persons seeking assistance through the county's program must meet all of the following criteria, Hagnauer said.
The applicant must reside in and own or be purchasing the unit he is seeking assistance for, and must meet the income criteria.
Those eligible for up to 100 percent of the unpaid cost of repairs fall within these income limits: Family size, one, $18,450. Two, $21,800. Three, $25,150. Four, $28,500. Five, $31,850. Six, $35,200. Seven, $38,550. Eight or more, $41,900.
Families eligible for up to 50 percent of the unpaid cost of home repairs are within the following income limits: One, $14,350. Two, $16,400. Three, $18,450. Four, $20,500. Five, $22,550. Six, $24,600. Seven, $26,650. Eight or more, $28,700.
Madison County's program will consider the uninsured loss amount only.
In the event that Small Business Administration loans are available, the county will then assist those applicants who have been unable to recover their loss through insurance.
For SBA funds, the insurance deductible portion is not eligible.
Further information on the program is available from the Community Development office at 692-4388, Hagnauer said.

Elks set law, order banquet in GC May 11

Granite City Elks Lodge 1053 has designated the week of May 10 as Law and Order Week. It was announced today by Earl C. Buenger, Law and Order Committee chairman.
Highlighting the week's activities will be the 11th annual "Law and Order, Banquet" on Monday, May 11, at the Elks Lodge, 1329 Niedringhaus Ave.
During the event, the local men's lodge will honor police departments in the Quad-Cities with awards for outstanding performance.
Principal speaker will be U.S. District Judge William L. Beatty of Granite City.
Program for the banquet includes a strip steak dinner, scheduled at 7:30 p.m. May 11, preceded by a cocktail hour with a cash bar, starting at 6:30 p.m.
Attendance is limited to 200 persons and reservations may be made on a first-come, first-serve basis through May 4 by calling the Elks Lodge at 678-9530, Buenger said.
Those purchasing tickets, but unable to attend, may sponsor a police officer and his wife for dinner by returning unused tickets to the lodge, the chairman added.
Proceeds from the banquet will help defray the cost of a free steak dinner and cocktail hour for all law enforcement officers in the Quad-City area, planned later the same week.
"This is an excellent opportunity for all Elks' members and the public to express appreciation to our police officers, and to do so in person," Buenger said.
Arrangements have been made for those attending the dinner to use the parking area at First Granite City National Bank.
Elks Exalted Ruler Loren Worthen will preside at the annual observance.

Six Flags express bus

The Bi-State Development Agency has begun service on the 1981 Six Flags Express. The bus service will take passengers to and from the Six Flags St. Louis amusement park, Allenton, Mo., on Saturdays only.
The Six Flags Express begins at Broadway and Market streets, in downtown St. Louis, and generally follows Interstate 44 to Six Flags, making most local stops, including Crestwood Plaza. Service starts at 7:40 a.m. and continues most of the day to take passengers to the park. Return service begins at 3:15 p.m. and continues until the park closes for the day.
Adult fares on the Six Flags Express are $1.50, or $1 with a transfer, or a weekly pass. Children under 13 and elderly and handicapped people may ride for 50 cents, or 25 cents with a transfer.
For service maps and schedules or further information, Quad-Cityans may call 675-4144.
He and other public officials also were concerned that the market for exempt state and municipal securities would be severely hampered if the IRS ruling

Jaycees donate $1,800 to Emergency Services

The Granite City Jaycees voted to donate $1,800 to the Granite City Emergency Services and Disaster Agency (Civil Defense) to purchase a radio hand-held radios at their meeting last week at the Jaycee Clubhouse.
Larry Beyers, Jaycee president, said the radios are vital needed and will enable CD personnel to be in direct contact at all times with both the police and fire departments.
Local Jaycee members also agreed to continue their annual "Identification Project" later this month or in May. The precise date has yet to be confirmed.
John Soles, project chairman, said the event will be directed to area residents who want to bring property to the Granite City Police Department to be engraved with their Social Security number.

The numbers aid in identifying stolen property when recovered and the engraving frequently acts as a deterrent to theft, law enforcement officers maintain.
In other business, the annual election of Jaycee officers was set for Wednesday, May 6, and prospective candidates were urged to contact Steve Ortiz, Earl Warnoff or Frank Wood this week.
A free skating party at Stopkotte's Roller Rink for Jaycees and their guests will take place from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. Saturday, May 2.

After the skating session, the group will gather at the Jaycee Clubhouse for a social hour and refreshments.
Jerry Gann, project chairman, said prospective Jaycee members and others in the community who are interested in the young men's service organization are invited to attend the skating party.
Another social activity is planned for Saturday, April 18, when Jaycee bingo workers will gather at Alexander's Restaurant for dinner and dancing, a club-sponsored event, according to Beyers.

Says easing of IRS ruling will aid banking industry

State Treasurer Jerry Consentino expressed relief upon learning that the Internal Revenue Service has revoked Revenue Procedure 80-55 which he claimed would have had devastating impact on the banking industry and the municipal bond market.
The ruling disclosed last December would have forbidden banks that with state and municipal securities from declaring the interest paid on those deposits as a business expense deduction.
"I am elated that this ruling has been reversed," said Consentino. "Had it been enforced, the IRS really would have kicked the banking industry when it was down."
Consentino also stated that the reversal of the ruling will enable his office to continue earning prevailing rates of interest on investments of state funds. Earlier, he was concerned that interest earnings would be reduced sharply because bankers would bid less aggressively for deposits from public treasurers.
He and other public officials also were concerned that the market for exempt state and municipal securities would be severely hampered if the IRS ruling were enforced. State and local governments then would have been forced to pay higher interest rates to market public improvement bonds in such circumstances.

In March, Consentino convened a special committee of bankers, public treasurers and other public officials from across the country to lobby for repeal of 80-55. The committee was actively supporting legislation co-sponsored by U.S. Senator Alan J. Dixon (D-Ill.) that called for revocation of the ruling.

Consentino urged Dixon to pursue the effort to have statutory language on the books so that the IRS could not arbitrarily impose a similar type ruling on the financial community at some future date.

District Lions to hear world official

Three hundred Illinois Lions from District 1-CN are expected to attend the district convention at the Ramada Inn, Fairview Heights, on April 24-26.

District 1-CN is comprised of 57 Lions clubs, six Lioness clubs and three Leo clubs in Southern Illinois.

Earl Maddox, director of the International Association of Lions Clubs, headquartered in the U.S., will address the Convention. A resident of Denver, he was elected to a two-year term as director at the association's 62nd convention held in Montreal, Canada, in June 1979.

Maddox represents more than 1.3 million members of over 33,000 Lions clubs in 150 countries and geographical areas around the world. He is one of 33 international offices and directors of the association, drawn from 14 countries.

Dedicated to humanitarian service, Lions Clubs International is the world's largest service club organization. All members are volunteers.

Traditional service efforts of Lions include providing special assistance to the deaf and blind.

Strong emphasis is also placed on educational, public, environmental, citizenship, health, recreational and social services to communities served by Lions clubs.

Similar efforts are directed toward increased international understanding through such programs as "club twinning," international youth exchanges and youth camps.

New swimming pool among capital projects at SIUE

Plans for several non-structural capital improvements at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, to be funded from nonappropriated funds, were approved Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees for submission to the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE).

University officers pointed out that IBHE procedures require approval of plans for projects of this type, including specifics of financing, but initiation of some projects included in the plans may not materialize due to cash flow limitations or other reasons.

The plans include a proposal for additional student housing, costing $7.6 million with financing through the sale of revenue bonds. The project would consist of 84 additional units to accommodate 672 single students.

Other plans approved include: relocation of the Day Care Center from Building 405 to Building 420 at Tower Lake Housing, to be financed through revenue bond operations, total cost $25,000.

Modification of service desks to Supporting Services Building and addition of lights along campus walks, to be financed by parking Lake recreational area, and other student recreational facilities, to be funded from student fees, total cost $700,000.

University officers explained that the non-structural capital improvement plans of the University represent the ongoing remodeling, rehabilitating, and equipping of various facilities used for functions that are auxiliary and supportive of the University's primary roles.

These facilities include

University housing, student centers, parking lots, athletic and special purpose facilities, and auxiliary enterprise and service operation facilities.

For the most part, the source of funds for these projects is from operating revenues of the facilities. Since the state, the board and the IBHE require the establishment and maintenance of an ongoing plan to keep the facilities functional and efficient.

Red Cross tornado aid still available here

Disaster assistance is still available and will remain available for those individuals and families affected by the tornado of April 3. Residents may contact the Tri-City Chapter, American Red Cross, 3200 Nameoki Road at 452-7184 for an appointment.

As of 5 p.m. Thursday, $4,120 was used for emergency disaster assistance to 14 families (53 persons). Although registration is picking up, the Red Cross strongly urges those families living in the area of Granite City to contact the office. Many people whose homes were destroyed or severely damaged are staying with relatives, friends and some are commuting back to Granite City daily from another area they have relocated in.

They have had neither the time or opportunity to seek help. "We would urge those families that have been assisted to contact residents in the affected area and advise them that help is still available," the Red Cross said.

"We would like to express our thanks to the Salvation Army for the facilities made available for disaster registration center, to all Red Cross volunteers, to churches and civic groups that have called offering their help. Our thanks also for the continued assistance from Vic Koenig, coordinator Civil Defense, Emergency Services and Disaster Agency," it was added.

"The Tri-City Chapter of the American Red Cross is deeply grateful to all the people in our community who through the years have given generously to the Tri-City Area United Way. Their contributions to the United Way make it possible for disaster assistance to be given. It is the money you have given that is flowing back into our community to help those who desperately need help. We are a United Way Agency that receives full financial support from the United Way, a portion of which yearly goes into Disaster Relief," the Red Cross statement said.

SIUE authorizes first steps in plan to build on-campus housing

Authorization to proceed with planning additional student housing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was granted Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees.

The planning will be limited to a total of 168 units, providing housing for 1,344 single students, with the construction to occur in two phases, and financing to be provided through the sale of revenue bonds.

The SIUE Board authorized the employment of an architectural or engineering firm to prepare a program scope statement, including estimates for construction, operating and maintenance costs, for the first phase of 84 units to house 672 students. Cost of the study is not to exceed $20,000. If the project is considered feasible, approval will be sought from the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

First phase of 84 new units would provide living quarters for 672

After completion of both phases of the project, total student housing space on campus would approximate 2,700. Presently, about 1,350 students are housed at Tower Lake Apartments.

President Earl Lazerson recommended the phased approach to address the need for housing for 1,344 students, instead of the 250-unit project for 2,000 students which had been proposed by a University study group. The president said he believed the project proposed in the study was too expensive a venture to pursue at one time, considering the uncertain economic horizon.

The president added that the proposed plan is a cautious approach to the development of student housing spaces in direct relation to student need and demand over time.

According to University officers, current estimates of the cost of construction, equipping and furnishing the first phase of 84 units would total approximately $7.6 million. The rental rate required to make such a project financially feasible is estimated at $145 per student per month, including utilities.

The proposed housing complex, as conceived by the study group, is described as a compromise between traditional dormitories and apartments. Each unit would have space for as many as eight students; kitchen facilities would not be included, although limited food preparation and storage capability would be provided. The complex would be close enough to the University Center to provide easy access for complete food service, as well as library, study and recreational facilities.

Established as a commuter institution, the University currently has about 10,000 students, with on-campus housing limited to Tower Lake Apartments. The apartments, with 496 units, have a continuing waiting list of 300 to 500 applicants.

When the permanent campus was opened in 1965, it was believed it would be feasible for students to commute as far as 50 miles, but the current study shows that transportation costs are such that if a student lives more than 10 miles from campus and travels alone to the University four times per week, it is cost effective for the student to live near or on the campus.

The study indicates there is a shortage of available housing in the area, and mass transportation systems do not provide necessary service to the campus from the many communities in which SIUE students live.

Based on recent surveys, University officials estimate annual student demand for on-campus housing to be in the range of 3,000 to 3,500 students, exclusive of the demand currently met through Tower Lake Apartments.

Dr. James R. Buck, director of development and public affairs, said the development of additional on-campus housing would support the University's recruitment, retention and marketing efforts and continuing education program activities. He said it would also generate other benefits for the institution, including: a larger residential student base, with increased interaction between students, faculty and staff; increased support and utilization of other University facilities, such as libraries, computing facilities, bookstores, food services, recreation and entertainment opportunities; and an enrichment of experiences for both residential and commuting students.

Sr. citizens to register for trip to May 21 game

The Granite City Park District is sponsoring a trip to the St. Louis Cardinal baseball game for senior citizens of the Granite City Park District. Each must live in the park district in order to qualify for this trip. The trip is scheduled for Thursday, May 21. Two school buses have been obtained for the journey to the ball park. The buses will leave the ice rink parking lot at 11 a.m.; the game will start at 12:35.

Tickets for the Cardinal-Astro game are $2.50 each. Individuals may register for the trip at the park office, beginning tomorrow.

There will be no fee for riding the buses. The maximum number that can be handled is 80 people.

Former postal inspector investigates new job

By CARYL CARSTENS

SPRINGFIELD — Gary Clayton started his career as a federal postal inspector and still thinks of himself as an investigator — even though he has been director of the state Department of Registration and Education for the last six months.

Not that there aren't plenty of things to investigate at R and E. The department has taken a lot of criticism over the years — from the press, from the auditor general, and from representatives of the occupations the agency licenses and regulates.

"It's a very visible department to be as small as it is," Clayton says.

Small though it may be — compared to, say, the Department of Transportation — R and E still regulates 32 occupations or institutions, including such professions as physicians, nurses, real estate salespeople and others.

At any one time, about 500,000 people hold licenses from the department.

"You can't please all those groups and run a centralized department," Clayton says.

Clayton was appointed acting R and E director last August, and he has been nominated for a full term by Gov. James Thompson. A native of Missouri, the 33-year-old Clayton was educated there and came to Illinois when assigned to the Chicago office of the postal investigations agency.

He entered Registration and Education during a shakeup that followed the March 1980 departure of Joan Anderson.

James Nowlan, who took over from Anderson as acting director, recruited Clayton from the Department of Law Enforcement to be R and E's chief of investigations. When Nowlan returned in August to his teaching position at the University of Illinois, Clayton became the acting director.

Clayton remembers Nowlan's description of the R and E directorship — "trying to hold 32 Ping-Pong balls under water at the same time." He doesn't claim to have all of the Ping-Pong balls under control all of the time, but he is beginning to develop some guidelines he hopes will do the job.

"What we're doing is a complete restructuring of the whole investigative effort," said Clayton. Investigations and inspections will become separate activities — the department has been criticized for using investigators to make routine inspections to determine, for instance, if beauticians are displaying their licenses.

Instead, Clayton is developing priorities for his investigators. Cases involving health care providers will be given attention first, followed by those involving purchase and sale of real estate and by those involving personal service professions, like beauticians.

Clayton is organizing a downstate investigations team to concentrate on cases outside the Cook County area. His long-range goal is to have regional investigative offices in Springfield, Rockford, Peoria and Marion. In the past, investigations have been mainly in the Chicago area.

Clayton also plans to ask the Legislature to strengthen laws regulating occupations. Presently, only two licensing statutes classify operating without a license as a criminal offense, and failure to obtain a license is only a misdemeanor. State's attorneys with numerous felony cases to prosecute aren't interested in those kinds of misdeemeanor cases, Clayton said.

License fees, some of which haven't been changed in 10 years, also need updating, he says.

Clayton also has some ideas about how to avoid confrontations with the occupational groups he is charged with regulating.

First, he plans not to become involved in "emotional" issues, like the recent battle over whether the state's licensing system for graduate nurses should be modified to allow Canadian-trained nurses to work in Illinois hospitals. A shortage of registered nurses, which still plagues the state's hospitals, had become a critical problem.

That issue eventually was passed to a special legislative committee for study.

Clayton believes such issues should be considered either in the Legislature or by the governor. His job, he says, is to administer the laws, not to take the heat for substantive changes in programs.

Clayton is trying to avoid being the focus of investigation on the part of occupational and professional associations, which often arises out of their being the last to know about major changes that affect their groups.

Confession to Jim Perdue murder made public during Davis trial

Condemned prisoner Givins Davis, 22, East St. Louis, has confessed to murdering Madison businessman James Perdue Sr. at Perdue Furniture Store Jan. 19, 1979, it was disclosed by Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber in Madison County Circuit Court Friday.

No charges have ever been filed in connection with the killing of Mr. Perdue and the serious wounding of James "Sonny" Crangle, an employee of the furniture store, but Weber introduced a confession by Davis to the shootings into evidence during Davis' sentencing in another case Friday.

Weber also introduced a confession signed by Davis in the home invasion death of Millstadt, in 1978. No charges have been filed in either case by Perdue.

Davis became the only twice-condemned man on Illinois death row Friday as he was sentenced to die in the electric chair for the July 13, 1979, slaying of Esther Sepmeyer, 33, in her farmhouse near Maryville.

Late last year, Davis was sentenced to death for the 1978 murder of Charles Biebel, 89, of rural Belleville, in his home. Davis also faces a total of 80 years in prison for the 1979 murders of Henry Oertel, 84, East St. Louis, and Frank Cash, 21, a clerk who was shot during the holdup of an East St. Louis auto parts store.

The jury in Mrs. Sepmeyer's murder deliberated 2½ hours Friday before returning its guilty verdict at 6:45 p.m. Circuit Judge A.A. Mateosian of Granite City ordered that the execution of Davis take place July 17, but that sentence will be automatically stayed, pending appeal to the Illinois

Supreme Court.

During Friday's session, Assistant Public Defender Tyler Bateman described Davis as a "borderline moron," and said he has had serious mental problems since being struck by a truck at about age 10 and suffering brain damage. One doctor at Davis could not function without drugs to control him.

Davis took the witness stand in his own defense and denied the killings for which he is charged. He said he had confessed to one murder because police threatened to shoot him and fellow jail inmates coerced him.

State may lift some license fees

By SHARON MAHER

SPRINGFIELD — Horsehoes, boxers and wrestlers, lie detector test operators, sanitarians, rainmakers and water well drillers may be freed from some government regulations come Oct. 1.

A report issued by the Select Joint Committee on Regulatory Agency Reform — the "Sunset Committee" — has recommended that the laws which require state licensing for these professions be stopped.

Licensing was also dropped for weather modifiers, but a permit system was recommended to be retained.

Of the seven state license programs considered by the committee only one was recommended to continue: structural pest controllers will still have to seek licenses from the state.

Sunset Committee Chairman Bruce Stratton said dropping these programs will save the state an estimated $500,000 per year in administrative costs.

None of these programs are self-sustaining, Stratton said. About $125,000 will be lost in license fees, but this does not even cover the cost of issuing the licenses, he said.

"At the same time, public protection from significant risk of harm or danger is marginal or non-existent. In each situation there are ways to provide protection for the public and for consumers without the need for bureaucracy," Stratton said.

Stratton cited the example of water well drillers who, regardless of whether the state issues a license to them, must abide by construction codes. Environmental Protection Agency regulations, Department of Mines and Minerals regulations and Public Health codes.

"The public would be better served by tightening up these codes which regulate the manner in which wells and water systems are constructed than by licensing," Stratton said.

All seven of the licensing acts will expire Oct. 1, unless legislation is passed to save them, Stratton said.

Evening hours at veterans' office

The Veterans' Service Office at Belleville Area College is continuing to maintain evening hours until 7 p.m. on Mondays through Thursdays. The office closes at 4 p.m. on Friday.

Veterans' Services Director Ted Lewis has expressed concern that some veterans may have believed erroneous reports that the office is closing early.

"Service to veterans is our only reason for existing," Lewis said. He pointed out that walk-in visitors have received counseling on several occasions well after the 7 p.m. closing time.

Lewis said, "It is important that veterans understand that the Veterans' Services Office is not a part of the Veterans Administration."

"Our office does not and cannot originate the approval of benefits check," he said.

"We use computerized documents from the VA or direct contact with the Veterans Administration regional office to provide information to our students. Sometimes we ask the VA to run an inquiry on a student's problem, but that procedure normally takes at least ten days to get an answer."

"No one on this campus is more concerned that veterans get all the benefits they deserve," Lewis said.

"The staff of the Veterans Services Office encourages students to stay in close touch with us."

"We are here to answer questions about benefits, to help veterans with paperwork, to counsel with them about educational or career goals, and even to help them locate employment."

He suggested that veterans work with his staff to keep their individual files continuously updated.

"The office is on the second floor of the main Belleville Area College campus, 2500 Carlyle Road. Telephone inquiries will be received at 235-2700, Extension 226."

In Good Spirits!

by GEORGE CREWS

Carefully mix together exact proportions of juniper berry, coriander seed, lemon and orange peels, angelica root, licorice, and cinnamon and you've got gin. First developed in the 17th century as a medicinal beverage (owing to the presence of the juniper berry), gin became the favorite drink of British soldiers who popularized it throughout the world. Since gin is so delicately flavored, and the product of such a complex recipe, the slightest variation or trace of foreign flavor is cause to throw out the whole batch. Although the United States and England are the major world producers of gin, imported gin from England is one of the fastest growing of all distilled spirits in the U.S. The difference? Distilled with less corn, more barley malt and at lower proof, producing a smoother, more delicate spirit than its U.S. counterpart.

Konzen on BAC's screening committee

Leo Konzen, an attorney from Granite City, and Robert Brauer, president of Empire Stove Co. in Belleville, will serve on the committee to screen applicants for a permanent president of Belleville Area College.

The two are the "community members" named to the committee as a special Board of Trustees meeting last week.

Other members named to the committee were Barbara Taylor, a nursing instructor, and Jack Haskell, a history instructor, both representing the faculty; Carol Hudack, a secretary, representing the staff of the college; Kevin Hale, president of the Student Senate, who will represent the student body; and Lee Knoebel, director of Financial Aids, representing the administration.

The seven members named to the committee will join three members of the Board of Trustees in screening applicants for the position.

Those board members are John "Jack" Becker of Sparta, who will serve as chairman of the committee; Patricia Becker of New Athens; and Avery Schermer of Granite City.

Final decisions concerning duties of the committee will be made at the regular April board meeting at 7:30 p.m. this Wednesday. A tuition hike also will be considered.

BAC Board chairman Robert Dintelmann said he expects the first committee meeting will be held Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

Growing broccoli and cauliflower

Area Garden Adviser

Broccoli, cauliflower, and brussels sprouts are members of the cabbage family that have been widely planted in recent years.

All offer good yield potential in the home garden, but they do have some special requirements.

Broccoli will yield over an extended period of time when well grown. The secrets to success are healthy transplants that haven't been subjected to extended cold temperatures or stress during growing, early planting, and good culture.

Plants started in early June will develop "sprouts" in the fall and these should be of better quality.

Regard to the planting season, spacing should be at 24 inches and the plants should receive regular watering.

Space the transplants 18 to 24 inches apart in the row. Use starter fertilizer in the transplant water, and side dress with nitrogen when plants are half grown.

Organic mulches will give weed control and better soil temperature and moisture conditions. Once harvesting starts, keep flower heads removed before flowers bloom out.

Cauliflower, too, needs to be planted early. Hot weather at heading time may prevent heading or lower quality.

Use healthy plants that have not been subjected to stress or extended low temperatures. These conditions cause premature heading or failure to head.

Plants should be spaced 18 to 24 inches apart, receive a fertilizer solution at planting time, and be given the best of cultural care.

Leaves should be tied over the top at the first sign of the flower head, except for the self-blanching varieties.

Brussels sprouts develop best in the cool season.

When planted in the spring, sprouts develop in about 90 days, when it is usually warm or hot. These "sprouts" tend to be loose and fluffy and may be off-flavor.

Bermuda grass control method

By RONALD CORNWELL

County Farm Adviser

Bermuda grass is a perennial grass that usually reproduces by rootstocks or stolons. The grass has a creeping habit.

Some people use bermuda grass as a lawn grass. However, bermuda grass spreads easily and can become a real problem once it invades a bluegrass lawn. In a bluegrass lawn, bermuda grass becomes a serious weed.

There are no chemicals available that will selectively remove bermuda grass from a bluegrass lawn. The only approach to ridding an area of bermuda grass is to use a non-selective chemical which will kill everything sprayed with the chemical.

The area can be over-seeded with bluegrass once the chemical residues have dissipated. Refer to the product labels to determine waiting time before reseeding.

The chemicals suggested for non-selective control include glyphosate; roundup; and others now available in homeowner formulations; dalapon and amtrone.

For additional information on lawn care and weed control problems, Quad-Cityans may contact the University of Illinois Extension Service office in Edwardsville and request a free copy of Circular 1076, "1981 Turfgrass Pest Control."

South's Bisch — Running is in her blood

BY TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press Record
GRANITE CITY — The thrill of victory was all it took. Once that excitement ran through Mary Bisch, her path to success on the track scene improved with leaps and bounds. And she's only a sophomore.

In her second second year in high school and first at Granite City South, Mary Bisch has made remarkable progress on the Warrior girls track team. Up until Saturday's meet, Bisch, running mostly long distances, had crossed the finish line just once in second place. The others have all been in winning efforts.

She kept that mark alive when she placed first in the two mile run at the South Combined Track and Field here Saturday. But, doubling in the one mile race was too much for her and she finished in the number two spot for only the second time. To gain this much success was for one reason. "I wanted to be like my brothers," said Mary. Running with her brothers when she was in junior high school in Huntsville, Alabama, Mary got interested in running track. As a freshman in high school there, Bisch was guided by the varsity girls track coach and it was then that running became a serious thing to her. "I started winning some races and I thought it was great," said Mary.

Determined to improve, Bisch continued to train primarily for the high school track season. "I wanted to stay in shape during the winter for track in the spring," said Bisch. So, when Mary was still a freshman in high school, she entered in the Rocket City Marathon while in Huntsville. The 26 mile, 385 yard race was just a start.

Moving to Granite City last summer, Mary stayed with her intense work-outs. The next race was the Sno-Ball Series in St. Louis. There, Bisch ran a number of races every other week. There were five all together and each one increased in distance until it built up to a final 20 mile run.

She went to Huntsville last December to once again compete in the Rocket City Marathon. Her latest competition was in March, where she ran in the St. Louis Gateway Marathon. Bisch has probably proved to her brothers that she is as good as they are, but Mary has a different reason for all the work.

"I would like to get a scholarship in track," said Bisch. "I have been looking for it and would like to go to the University of Alabama at Tusculosa. We have been a running family and my parents wanted me to run, but after two boys they didn't think the next girl would be as good. I proved them wrong, though."

to her father, who took her a number of the road races, and her mother, who would cook her big meals. But, the biggest contributors have been South head track coach Mel Bunting and the Warrior team. "The team is real good, they built me up," said Bisch. "And coach Bunting is just great."

As of now, Mary is still looking to see which distance she will specialize in the two mile or the mile, but she does like the longer distances and might be leaning towards the two mile.

The doubling of both races in one meet and her continued success in them might be difficult to maintain, but it doesn't bother Mary. She just loves to run. "This is the first time I have ever ran the two mile of the mile before in track," said Mary. "I ran the 440 and 880 last year." And she has only lost twice.

Remember this also, Mary Bisch is JUST a sophomore.

Trojans give North a scare

MADISON — It was the type of game a coach has nightmares about. And Bob Stegemeier might have had some trouble sleeping Friday night.

After dumping Edwardsville 8-1 in a crucial Gateway East Conference contest Thursday, the last thing Stegemeier, Granite City North's head baseball coach, wanted was a letdown as his Steelers took on Madison. He got just that as North did slip away with a 13-12 victory here Friday.

The Steelers had to feel they were the ones who took the beating. Because, for North, it probably should have been a easy game, but for Madison, it was the best of the season.

"We came out of the closet for a change," said Trojan head coach John Paskus. "It was the best hitting day we have had this year."

Sure, both clubs hit the ball. Madison banged out 14 hits while North ripped nine, but neither club really didn't want to take charge. When either one did manage a lead, it didn't seem to want to hold it.

This was evident when the Steelers, after grabbing a 3-0 lead in the top of the second, lost it in the bottom of the inning on four errors. Trojan Dave Kaminski drilled a shot up the right-centerfield gap for a home run to start the inning. He was followed by Ribi's from Deron Fletcher and George Wallace.

The inning relieved North's starting pitcher Danny Patterson of any further duties. Paul Barrington was called on and did a fine job for two innings, despite giving Madison another run on a Ken Briggs homer.

But North's state play would not last very long. Pride prevented the Steelers from getting embarrassed. Stegemeier was probably wondering where the offense was before when North cranked out six runs in the fourth. Two Ribi's by Rich Buer on a double and one from Keith Flaughter capped off the frame that started after two outs had already been made.

The Trojans refused to say die, though, and added another run in the fifth with Bob Tarasovich picking up the RBI. The Steelers were now on their third pitcher.

"Our pitching staff has been depleted," said Stegemeier. "We have a couple of sore arms and have been forced to pitch some infielders. We really need the rest." Both Patterson and Barrington both exited because of arm trouble. But, Patterson remained in the game at second base. His solo home run in the second inning was a big reason.

With Madison on just its second hurler, Patterson greeted Trojan Billy Papa with a three-run homer in the fifth. The lead was made iron in left field. Patterson was rounding third when the fielder found the ball. It was his fourth RBI of the game.

North added another run in the seventh and by all practical, and normal reasons, the lead with but three outs left should have been enough for anyone to hold down. Stegemeier was in for a surprise.

"The ball club (North) doesn't have the mental competition yet," said Stegemeier. "They haven't yet learn that they should beat bad clubs like they beat good ones. We are just not playing with a killer instinct."

Any fan could testify to that fact as Madison scored four runs in the bottom of the seventh inning, its last time at bat before North could record an out. A pair of Ribi's by Tarasovich, one from Fletcher and one by Ed Forister highlighted the six run frame.

Steele Steve Tritschuh, pitching in his first varsity game, came on in relief and retired three of the four batters he faced, including the potential tying run. "After two super ball games, it was a definite let-down," said Stegemeier. "We talked about it on the bus ride over here, but I guess it didn't help."

Despite losing for the ninth time this season, Paskus couldn't fault the effort of his Trojans. "In a matter of speaking, we didn't give up," said Paskus. "We have seen that type of pitching before, but never hit on it. I'm pleased to see our bats come alive and finally sting the ball. I enjoyed that game better than sitting back and getting blow away. And the fans were happy. We didn't chase them away early."

Job Fair planned here

The Parents for Special Education and Region I Special Education, have announced that everything is moving along on schedule for the second annual Job Fair for the handicapped, to be held April 22 from 9:30-1 p.m. in the Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave.

The Job Fair site is architecturally accessible and an assistant will be available to those needing sign language interpretation, or any other assistance.

Thirty employers have already accepted this opportunity to participate in the Job Fair. There will be 11 Social Service Agencies in attendance. These will be from St. Louis, East St. Louis, Collinsville and the Quad-Cities.

The employers will be interested in meeting qualified, job ready handicapped juniors and seniors of the high schools, as well as other handicapped individuals, wishing to apply for work.

Most employers will have information regarding general employment opportunities and company related information, application forms and other written materials available.

It would be helpful if job seekers would have a short resume of education and work experience ready to speed up the employer-employee interview. All handicapped participants should come prepared to discuss their abilities, skills and interest and personal employment goals. The job fair is being presented at no cost to the employer or the applicant. For additional information Quad-Cities contact Mrs. Grady at (618) 877-5806.

Financial aid to college students

Those who need help meeting college expenses may attend a Belleville Area College financial aid workshop at 7 p.m. April 30.

The workshop, which will be in the second-floor theater, will include a question-and-answer session and help in filling out applications for monetary aid. Applications for the 1981-82 school year are available.

Although there is some anticipation that federal funding available to BAC students may be cut, no such reductions have been made. The most current information available indicates students should apply as they would have, assuming that no cuts are to be made.

MAYOR'S COUNCIL TO MEET APRIL 29

Mayor George A. Lanxon of Fairview Heights will host the next meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors on Wednesday, April 29, at the Ramada Inn, 124 and Route 159, Fairview Heights.

The hospitality hour begins at 6 p.m. with dinner at 7 p.m.

Mayor Lanxon has asked Dale L. Klorh, District Engineer of the Illinois Department of Transportation to be guest speaker.

State budget cuts

Governor James R. Thompson ordered $200 million in budget cuts Friday to "keep Illinois solvent while the state is experiencing the highest welfare rate since the Great Depression" and a heavy recession impact.

"I am determined not to let the 'Prairie State' become the 'Deadbeat State' and I am determined to make government in Illinois live within its means because our taxpayers live within theirs," the governor said.

He ordered: An immediate freeze in equipment purchases, and on general revenue fund projects, plus a freeze on consultant hiring.

In addition, the governor said he will recommend that budget cuts be made in the following areas:

Education services, human resources, rail freight project, conservation, aid to local governments, grants to fire and police departments, payments to local assessors, and state employment.

In addition, the governor will recommend elimination of the noise pollution program.

Why does medical care cost so much?

This is the eighth in a series of articles exploring "The Nation's Health." In this article, Edward F.X. Hughes of Northwestern University's Center for Health Services and Policy Research discusses causes and possible solutions for the high cost of medical care. Copyright (c) 1980 by the Regents of the University of California.

By EDWARD F.X. HUGHES
Doctors and hospitals are providing far more sophisticated care for their patients than they did a quarter of a century ago, and the bills for their services have increased dramatically.

In 1979, total health care expenditures in the United States were $23 billion—an increase of 12.5 percent over the previous year—and $943 for each individual.

There are good reasons for much of the increase in costs—for example, inflation and the development of programs to increase access to care for the aged and the poor.

But the system by which we pay doctors and hospitals also contributes to the high costs of medical care.

Most physicians are paid on a fee-for-service basis, which rewards them for providing more and more services, regardless of their benefit to the patient.

Hospitals are reimbursed for their costs, so they are rewarded by adding services and increasing the costs of care.

The patient, or consumer, also has a few incentives to curtail the costs of health care because in most cases these are paid by a third party—an insurance company or the government.

A comparison of the health care system to the general market for goods and services will clarify the issues involved.

In a "free market," both consumer and producer have strong incentives to purchase and produce the desired product at the lowest possible price.

The more a consumer has to pay for a given item, the less money is available for other purchases.

Similarly, the higher the price a producer charges, the greater the risk that the consumer will shop elsewhere.

These forces contribute to an "efficiency" in the exchange of goods and services in our society.

And, at least in theory, they assure that the consumer pays for a product reflects its true value to the purchaser.

THIRD PARTY PAYMENTS

The medical care market, however, differs from such a "free market."

Most notably, we have intervened as a society to assure that no one should be denied needed medical care because of an inability to pay for it.

In attempting to achieve that goal, we have created both private and public programs that subsidize the costs of care, especially hospital care.

The best known of these programs are Blue Cross, Blue Shield and the government-funded programs, Medicare and Medicaid.

In 1979, 92 percent of all hospital bills in the United States were paid for by such third party programs.

Despite their positive benefits, these programs have contributed to the dramatic increase in the cost of medical care.

Since patients do not have to pay directly for services covered by insurance, there is no incentive for physicians to refrain from ordering costly services, or for hospitals to be otherwise efficient in delivering those services.

On the contrary, the desire to provide the best quality care possible is a strong incentive for physicians to order laboratory tests, X-rays, or special procedures, even if the benefit might be small.

The threat of malpractice suits is also felt to result in physicians ordering additional tests and consultations. This practice has been called "defensive medicine."

Similarly, there is no incentive for patients to seek other than the best and most expensive medical care available. This is especially true when the third party program provides "first dollar" coverage—that is, it pays for the entire bill, even the very first dollar.

Knowing the preferences of doctors and patients and that their costs will be reimbursed, hospitals purchase the newest equipment available in order to compete effectively with other hospitals.

To protect themselves from the increased costs of these new services, consumers purchase even more insurance, and an ever-escalating spiral of increased cost and more insurance results.

Feeding into this cost spiral is the continued development of medical care technology.

Each year, numerous diagnostic devices and therapeutic measures are created, such as computerized axial tomography (CAT scanner), coronary bypass surgery, kidney dialysis, and a variety of intensive care initiatives.

Each of these new technologies requires new, more highly skilled personnel, further increasing the costs of medical care.

REFORMING THE SYSTEM

What can be done about the escalating costs? The answer is not to stop technological change, or to put a ceiling on national health expenses. Such measures could ultimately impair the quality of care.

The key to controlling the rapid increase in medical care costs is to provide economic incentives to encourage physicians, hospitals, and patients to exercise more prudent use of medical care services.

Mechanisms can be developed to encourage consumers and providers to make informed decisions about the purchase of medical care items and to evaluate whether such items are worth their real "costs."

One such mechanism would be the requirement that all Americans who could afford to do so would pay the first dollar of their medical care (deductible) and some percentage of the costs of the remaining care (co-insurance).

Such an arrangement would induce patients and their doctors to consider whether a given procedure would have to be paid.

A number of health economists estimate that a policy of even modest deductibles and co-insurance for those who are not poor could substantially slow the rate of increase in health care costs.

Another appropriate step would be to change the incentives hospitals face under current third party systems, possibly by moving toward a system of "prospective" reimbursement.

Under such a system, each hospital would have to function within a fixed annual budget, based on the number of patients expected in that year and on the level of care those patients were expected to require.

Such a system could encourage hospitals to deliver care more efficiently and refrain from frills for which they might otherwise have been reimbursed.

"Prospective" reimbursement has been tried in a number of states, with mixed results.

The principle behind "prospective" reimbursement is essentially the same idea that underlies the health maintenance organization (HMO).

Many knowledgeable observers believe that this innovation has the greatest potential for holding down health care costs.

In an HMO, consumers pay a fixed monthly premium in exchange for receiving all their medical care from that organization, regardless of the amount of care they consume.

As a result, the HMO physician has a strong incentive to hold down costs, while still providing quality care in order to continue to attract members.

Evidence from HMOs to date is encouraging. Some have achieved substantial cost savings—from 10 to 40 percent below those for comparable groups cared for under traditional fee-for-service insurance—principally through reductions in the numbers of hospitalizations.

Evidence also suggests that—as the number of HMOs in an area increases—competition holds down the prices of other providers in that area.

Such competitive forces might also be enhanced by altering many of the existing reimbursement policies that discriminate against other potentially cost-reducing innovations, for example, home health care and greater reliance on non-physician manpower, such as nurse-practitioners.

Thus, enlightened reforms—in the market for medical care, and in the way we pay for care and organize it—could produce incentives for both consumers and providers to act to hold down costs without impairing the quality of care.

What If All The Stores In Our Town Closed Up?

It could happen.

In some towns it already has happened... because local people did most of their shopping OUT of town. We all know of communities with lots of empty stores. And, empty stores mean less tax support...a lot less!

Did you ever stop to think about how much of our community's taxes are paid by our businesses? If they were no longer paying their share, think how much MORE your taxes would increase to pay for essential local services.

If they no longer made charitable donations to groups to which you belong, how much MORE would YOU have to pay?

A healthy business community benefits everyone. Shop here at home.
